FIFTY PER CENT INCREASE IN GASOLINE TAX TO BOOST BRITAIN'S REVENUE

 dently expected extra duties would be imposed.
APPLAUSE AND CHEERS
 The atmosphere in the chamber was tense when the Chancellor rose to speak.
 Mrs. Snowden kept an eye on him from the women's gallery high above the speaker's chair and near her was a physician and a nurse, for the "iron Chancellor" is a sick man. Only a few weeks ago he underwent a serious operation.
 Prolonged applause from the government benches and sympathetic cheers from the opposition greeted him as he began to speak.
 The Chancellor, who was looking remarkably well for a man just through a stage of sickness, began in good voice.
DEBT ARRANGEMENTS
 He foreshadowed considerable debt conversion operations during the coming year. Provision would be made, he said, to cover a considerable part of last year's deficit of $23,376,000 (approximately $116,880,000) from ordinary sources.
 Mr. Snowden told the House he looked for some recovery in stock exchange activity during the year.
REVENUE ESTIMATED
 The Chancellor estimated the yield of revenue for the next year on the existing basis of taxation at $760,000,000 (about $3,850,000,000).
 He said the consumption of alcoholic liquor had fallen during the last year and that he had estimated a further fall this year "because a fall

NEW LAND TAX STARTS FIGHT

Snowden Tells British Commons He Proposes Levy; Lords Flatly Opposed

London, April 27.—The most sensational announcement in the budget speech delivered by Mr. Philip Snowden had no bearing at all on the financial situation of this year 1931-32. It was the Chancellor's declaration he intended to institute a scheme for taxation of land values at the rate of one penny to the pound on capitalized value. Preliminary valuation of land to this end is likely to take two years.
 Commentators on the speech are predicting that this scheme, to which the House of Lords is opposed almost to a man, will lead to endless political controversy, perhaps to a series of Parliamentary crises. The proposal will be debated in the Commons on Thursday.
LOYD GEORGE SPEAKS
 After the budget speech Mr. Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, "rejoiced his heart," but he added he would have adverse comment to make on the budget as a whole.
 Mr. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Conservative financial critic, declared the budget in some respects might have been worse. "On all other counts it would be strongly opposed by the Conservatives," he warned.
1908 CONTEXT
 It was the land tax proposals in the Lloyd George budget of 1908 which brought the last great contest between the Commons and the House of Lords and led to passing of the Parliament Act of 1911 which curtail the Lords' veto. Over a straight money bill the Lords under the Parliament Act, have no power of veto. A money bill which has passed the Commons and been sent to the House of Lords becomes law at the end of a month, no matter how the Lords vote.
 But will Snowden's land valuation proposals come within the terms of the money bill as defined in the Parliament Act, or will the government have to submit to a veto by the Lords?
 Observers are already questioning whether the budget is not likely to be the first round in a stand-up battle between the Commons and the Lords. There have lately been a number of statements that it is not far distant and that it will eventually be carried to the polls.

Year's Unfavorable Trade Balance Of Canada $89,607,000

Canadian Press
 Ottawa, April 27.—At the end of the fiscal year on March 31 last Canada had an unfavorable trade balance of $89,607,000. Figures of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics are as follows: Domestic exports, $770,717,000; exports of foreign origin, $1,288,000; imports, $960,610,000.
 In the preceding year the figures were: Domestic exports, $1,120,000,000; exports of foreign origin, $24,678,000; imports, $1,248,278,000; unfavorable balance, $103,338,000.
 In 1928 the balance was on the other side of the ledger to the extent of $123,216,000, while in 1929 the favorable balance was $141,041,000.

POLICE SURROUND THREE BANDITS NEAR FRASER

TELEPHONE WIRES CUT
 Telephone lines between the hotel and this were cut so that word of the robbery, which was carried out about 3 a.m., did not reach here until some time after the men had escaped.
 Word was flashed to all surrounding districts and the bandit trio had a brush with Provincial Constables J. J. McConnell and E. Pare near Mission City. They refused to obey a police summons to stop their auto and fired several shots, two of which struck the police car. One of the police bullets, fired in response, shattered one of the bandits' windows.
 Pursued by police, the safecrackers turned their auto toward the river to Nicomen Island, and this afternoon they were caught by a patrol boat.
SEEN IN FLIGHT
 Explosion of a nitro-glycerine charge shortly after 3 a.m. awoke guests and staff in the hotel and several saw the bandits flee in a blue sedan.
 The men entered the hotel before 3 a.m., armed with revolvers and a rifle. They held up J. Oganich, night watchman, and bound and gagged him while they went to work on the safe.
 The robbers had apparently planned the affair carefully for they had blown the strong box and were in their car within twenty minutes. Their work was amateurish, however, for the whole side of the safe was blown away by the explosion.

"LEGS" DIAMOND IS SHOT IN BACK BY GANGSTER

 a hospital there he was placed in bed after an examination, pending a probe for the pellets. While he was seriously injured, his condition was not believed to be critical.
 Police questioned two witnesses, Herbert Chichester and John Butler, both of the village of Cairn, who, near the scene of the shooting, they could say merely that they had been to a movie and had stopped for a few minutes at the Arcturion Inn.
 A week ago Diamond's name flashed through the press when he was indicted by a grand jury. The indictment was based on the alleged beating by Diamond and a companion, Jim Dickey, of a taxi driver who said he had been stopped by the men and tortured because he refused to account for a load of cider in a manner satisfactory to the two.

NAVAL PACT NEGOTIATIONS TO CONTINUE

London, April 27.—Foreign Office officials to-day said persistent reports to the effect that Great Britain had definitely rejected the French proposal concerning the French-Italian naval pact were incorrect.
 The position they said was simply that Great Britain had not yet decided certain counter-proposals to France and that conversations were likely to continue for a week or more longer.

DUTY CHANGE FOR CABBAGES

Fixed Value For Levy Purposes on Carrots Also Cancelled By Ryckmann

Ottawa, April 27.—Fixed values for duty purposes on carrots and cabbages have been cancelled by Hon. E. B. Ryckmann, according to official notice given to customs appraisers. The cancellation will be effective May 1. The removal of special duties is seasonal and they will probably be again imposed at a later date, officials state.
 Acting on authority conferred on him at the special session of Parliament last September, the minister some time ago set values on a number of vegetables. The effect was that the dumping duty automatically applied if imported goods were sold at prices below the fixed prices. The purpose was stated to be to protect domestic producers from unfair competition by foreign goods.
 But will Snowden's land valuation proposals come within the terms of the money bill as defined in the Parliament Act, or will the government have to submit to a veto by the Lords?
 Observers are already questioning whether the budget is not likely to be the first round in a stand-up battle between the Commons and the Lords. There have lately been a number of statements that it is not far distant and that it will eventually be carried to the polls.

North Vancouver, B.C., April 27.—A funeral service will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in St. Andrew's United Church here for the late Charlotte Rae. Rev. William Scott will officiate. The remains will be interred at the cemetery at St. James Road and Mahon Avenue.

GOVERNMENT APATHETIC TO B.C. INDUSTRIES

 able contribution to the business of the province now and for years to come, are claimed to be ample justification for the department through the repayment of money advanced, the payment of taxes and building up of important payrolls. Success which has been met with in reorganizing other industries or recouping the government as much as possible through sales of plants and machinery in the cases where industries closed down, has also won compliments for the present industrial commission, whose position will be abolished when the work is turned over to Victor Rollins, who was appointed as provincial purchasing agent by Hon. W. T. Shelly.
LOANS MADE RECENTLY
 The necessity of the department, although it was sometimes under fire from Conservatives when they were in opposition, has since been recognized by the Conservative Government. A policy of aiding only industries which did not compete with established industries was adopted, but several others were helped. The heavy industry was helped by a loan, and for processing berries. A loan was also recently paid to establish a seed growing industry on Vancouver Island.

OLD PAINTINGS WORTH THOUSANDS STOLEN IN LONDON

London, April 27.—With a group of old masters and precious antiques valued at $135,000, belonging to H. A. Haase, architect and decorator, reported stolen yesterday, police to-day were attempting to trace them and capture the thieves.
 Among the pictures, all of which were cut from their frames, were Gainsborough's "Countess of Chesham" and "Portrait of a Gentleman"; Reynolds' "Miss Grant" and a portrait by Van Dyke.

NEW GROUP FOR LUMBER EXPORT

B.C. Mills Join With Washington and Oregon Firms in Move

Longview, Wash., April 27.—Formation of the United Export Lumber Association, embracing four export groups and 145 sawmills in western Washington, Oregon and British Columbia was announced here to-day by L. L. Chipman, head of the export activities of the Long-Bell Lumber Company.
 The Douglas Fir Exploitation and Export Company, Seattle; the Dant and Russell Export Company, Portland; the Gray Harbor Exportation Company, Aberdeen, and the Associated Timber Exporters of British Columbia Limited are the affiliated groups.
BIG OUTPUT INCLUDED
 "The four companies represent and will sell the export output of 145 sawmills," Chipman said. "These mills produce 85 per cent of the export lumber capacity west of the Cascade Mountains in British Columbia, Washington and Oregon." Chipman said. "Operation of the United Export Lumber Association began last Monday, and it is the expectation of those interested in the association will be of material benefit to the lumber industry as a whole and it is considered a definite step toward general improvement in the industry."
 "This company will in no way deal with the public, but will prescribe the regulations under which the four separate groups will operate. The organization is effected under the provisions of the Webb-Pomeroy Act."
PRICE STABILIZATION
 Stabilization of lumber prices for foreign buyers would be one of the prime duties of the new association, Chipman declared.
 "Through lack of co-operative effort but little trade development effort has been carried on in foreign countries, but doubtless the United Export Lumber Association will cause to be established in the United Kingdom, Japan, China, Australia and South America, agencies for the purpose of developing new uses for west coast lumber, and in general to create a better feeling of understanding between the mills on this side and foreign consumers."

NO EARLY CHANGE IN AGE PENSIONS PAYMENTS SEEN

Canadian Press
 Winnipeg, April 27.—That the Dominion government will not undertake this year to pay ninety-five per cent of old age pensions was indicated here today by Hon. D. L. McLeod, Minister of Finance, in making public a telegram received from Premier Bennett.
 In reply to a wire from Premier John Bennett of Manitoba, Mr. Bennett advised the provincial government to make provision for paying old age pensions this year on the same basis as it has for the past year.
 In the meantime, the Dominion Government would have the legislation necessary for transfer of the pension burden placed at the present session of Parliament.

DOWELLS AND PACIFIC MERGE

Two Leading Cartage and Storing Firms in Victoria Amalgamate
 Amalgamation of Dowell's Cartage and Storage Company and the Pacific Transfer Company is announced and its future the concern will be known as Dowell's-Pacific Transfer and Storage Company, with headquarters at 1115-1120 Wharf Street.
 The officers of the new firm will be Arthur Dowell, Kenneth Perry and Alfred Dowell, all well-known young business men. Frank Fulton, who has been with the Pacific Transfer for sixteen years, will be chief dispatcher, and J. A. Crahan will be manager of the storage, moving and packing department, in which work he has had a wide experience.
 "We have no fears as to the future of Victoria and find no cause for alarm during the depression," said Arthur Dowell, president of the company. "Our business has continued to grow and we are ahead of our returns for this time last year. We are prepared to expand and be ready for the good times that are coming."

IN PROVINCE
 "So, although the legislation," the judgment proceeds, "while speaking of a company and of the common law rights of corporations, treats in fact a monopoly and interferes seriously with the property and contractual rights of individuals, it would not be invalid for those reasons alone if it were confined to a subject wholly within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Legislature; if, being as it is, an act to control and regulate trade in a commodity, it had confined the operation to transactions having their beginning and end in the province, so as to affect business pursuits elsewhere only incidentally and indirectly, if at all."
 The firm will operate a fleet of twenty modern trucks, making it the largest cartage and moving concern in the history of Victoria. It has extensive storage space, and handles all merchandise and household goods, and has taken over the old Hudson's Bay lands department building on Wharf Street and renovated it for brokers' offices.
 Dowell's-Pacific Transfer are the official cartage and baggage agents for the Canadian National Railway and Steamships.

NEW JUDGE IN ALBERTA SOON

Rumored A. A. McGillivray Will Be Appointed to Appeal Court

Canadian Press
 Ottawa, April 27.—A well-authenticated rumor is that A. A. McGillivray, K.C., Calgary, a leading member of the Alberta bar, will be appointed to the Appeal Division of the Supreme Court of Canada in succession to Mr. Justice W. E. Walsh.
 Mr. Justice Walsh, who last week was named Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, will continue his judicial duties until April 30. On May 1 the new Lieutenant-Governor will take over the functions of that post.

SLASHING FIRES AT SHAWNIGAN CAUSE OF SMOKE

Three burnings of slash near Shawnigan Lake caused much smoke over the week-end, and gave rise to rumors of extensive bush fires. W. H. Munroe, president of the Shawnigan Lake Lumber Company Limited, this morning stated that a large area of slashings northwest of Shawnigan Lake had been successfully burned over last week, but the fire was at no time out of control, and had been extinguished over the week-end.
 Forest Ranger Regan of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Lands Department received reports on Saturday regarding burnings around Shawnigan Lake, which he stated to be "very satisfactory."
 The three largest burnings in the Shawnigan Lake district were all on the west side of the lake.

NEW FEDERAL MEDICINE PLAN IS ADVOCATED

 A system of state medicine conducted by the Dominion Government was urged by Dr. Howden.
LABOR MAKES WEALTH
 The wealth of the country, he said, was purchased by the labor of the people and the wealth and prosperity of Canada depended on the health and strength of the people. Ill-health and disease were neither necessary nor inevitable. Children born of healthy parents in good conditions would normally be strong, but children born of weak parents in conditions of poverty and distress could not be strong.
 Dr. Howden said that the health of the nation was a matter of national importance and that the government should take steps to improve the health of the people.
 He said that the government should establish a system of state medicine, which would provide for the health of the people at a cost of a few cents a year.

FOOL GOES ON

Regina, April 27.—The Saskatchewan Wheat Pool will not cease its efforts to secure the necessary power for complete control of grain marketing through one organization. Referring to the finding of the Saskatchewan Appeal Court that the Grain Marketing Act was ultra vires, A. J. McPhail, president of the pool, to-day stated the pool did not regard the judgment as final, in view of possible reversal by the Supreme Court of Canada or the Privy Council in London.

WILL CONTINUE FIGHT

Saskatoon, Sask., April 27.—"We can only say the fight for growers' control will be continued." This was the statement issued on behalf of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan branch, in commenting on the finding of the Saskatchewan Court of Appeal ruling that the Grain Marketing Act was ultra vires.
 "We are not using Cape Breton coal, it will be remembered," he said, "that coal gets as far as Montreal for distribution, and it would be difficult to persuade Ontario consumers to deal with Maritime fuel when they can buy fuel equally if not better adapted to their purposes, which comes a shorter distance and costs less."

 trialist, the embargo could have only one effect, namely, Maritime producers would lose wide markets now enjoyed in Ontario. In the event of a war of reprisals arising, he said, Nova Scotia, not Ontario, would suffer most.
REASONABLE SUPPORT
 Premier George S. Henry said Ontario had no objection to Maritime products or to giving them reasonable support to help the eastern industries.
 Considering the populations in proportion, he thought the interchange of goods between the Maritimes and Ontario was fairly reasonable.
 "As to not using Cape Breton coal, it will be remembered," he said, "that coal gets as far as Montreal for distribution, and it would be difficult to persuade Ontario consumers to deal with Maritime fuel when they can buy fuel equally if not better adapted to their purposes, which comes a shorter distance and costs less."

NEW BRUNSWICK OPINION

St. John, N.B., April 27.—Options of New Brunswick government officials, industrial leaders and business men generally on the advisability of boycotting Ontario goods, a step advocated by L. St. John, Sydney, N.B., manufacturer, differ widely.
 "Although some say the plan is a good one," and should be put into effect, the majority are of the opinion that it is a step of last resort, and should be considered before any drastic action is taken.
TO AROUSE ONTARIO
 Sydney, N.B., April 27.—"What we want Ontario to do is wake up and take an intelligent interest in our products," said L. St. John, N.B., manufacturer, who said he was a natural patriot and would cause them to rally to our support. "That is the point of view expressed by L. St. John, Sydney bread manufacturer, as the Sydney Board of Trade prepared to meet this afternoon to discuss the advisability of concerted action on co-operative corporate body in place of the Maritime suggestion that Maritime business men stop buying in Ontario until that province increases its purchases in the Maritimes.

The announced intention of his firm, made public in newspaper advertisements yesterday, is to switch purchases of raw materials from Toronto to Montreal and the St. Lawrence valley, where Nova Scotia coal is sold.

Mr. Snell, formerly branch manager of a bakery chain, has had his own business here for some time. He is a member of no commercial organization except the Sydney Board of Trade, but following his advertisements of Saturday, headed "Bake Days' Work a Week at the Steel Plant and Coal Mines," Mr. Snell found he had placed himself in the position of spokesman for the employees of these Nova Scotia industries for a time at least.

FOR BOTH ASSEMBLIES
 "The act is of such a nature that it cannot be enacted by either Parliament or the Legislature alone, as it covers both the Dominion and provincial spheres of legislative jurisdiction, the provinces having power to legislate with regard to local matters dealt with by the act, and Parliament with regard to matters extending beyond the province," the finding states.
 With the exception of the question of indirect taxation, the act is parallel to the Produce Marketing Act of British Columbia, which was found ultra vires in a recent decision.

TARIFF SUGGESTION
 "The coal report can be obtained in one of two ways or by a combination of both."
 (a) By an adequate tariff on soft coal entering this country.
 (b) By subsidizing the use of Nova Scotia coal on C.N.R. and C.P.R. lines from Brockville, Ont., to divisional points as far west as required to absorb 3,000,000 tons.

UNITY DISCUSSION
 "What is the use," Mr. Snell asked, "of talking about national unity and national policies, where it is the millions of the streets and Canada is importing bituminous coal? What is the use of talking about national policies where hundreds of Cape Breton steelworkers are subsisting on Communist relief, and the rest of Canada is importing something like a million dollars' worth of steel a day?"

"We do not for one moment accuse people of Ontario of intentional hostility. The trouble is they do not understand our situation."
QUESTION OF COST
 Mr. Snell put forth the example that "when we got up to Ontario to sell our coal, they tell us they cannot buy it because they can get their fuel more cheaply from the adjacent United States fields. They claim that to pay $8.00, our Ontario friends say: No, that is bad national policy. You must pay us $1.00 for it. And by means of its voting power in the federal House Ontario can cause us to buy its high-priced automobile and refuse to buy our high-priced coal. That is what I mean by a one-sided commercial relationship."

"We say that if we are required to pay more than the adjacent market price for manufactured goods Ontario should be willing to pay a little more than adjacent market prices for our coal."

"That is what we want to impress on our friends in central Canada."

ACCIDENTS CAUSE DEATHS OF SIX

Seattle, April 27.—Airplane, automobile, drowning and hunting accidents cost the lives of six persons in Washington yesterday.

Leading the list of fatalities was Thomas D. Stinson, Seattle lumberman and aviation enthusiast, whose private plane carried him to his death when it crashed on the Colville Indian reservation near Nespelem.

Mrs. Alice E. Griffith, Seattle business woman and sister of the late Dean

John Condon, of the University of Washington, drove an automobile against a telephone pole while taking a driving lesson and was fatally injured. She died a few minutes after the crash.

John H. Haak, sixty-eight, of Portland was struck and fatally injured by an automobile as he was walking across the Pacific Highway near Olympia. He died in St. Olympia hospital shortly after the accident. H. E. Grizum, of Centerville, was driving the car which hit Haak. Officers said Haak had apparently walked into the path of Grizum's machine.

A Spokane youth, Loren Jones, sixteen, was fatally wounded by a .22 calibre rifle bullet while hunting rabbits with a companion. Loren died five hours later.

GEODETIC SURVEY MEASUREMENTS

"Accurate measurements can be made across country by means of a measured line on the ground and a system of triangles. The triangulation of the Geodetic Survey of Canada, Department of the Interior, is conducted with the greatest degree of accuracy. Its purpose is to determine the position of the land and shape of the earth, the position of international and provincial boundaries, and furnishes points of control for the general maps of the country. Adjusted geodetic points in great numbers are available to the public in every province of the Dominion.

He will be accompanied by his family and a large entourage. The king's visit is expected to be a success.

OPINIONS ON EXCHANGE OF TRADE DIFFER

Maritime Leader in Toronto Gives Views on Proposed Boycott of Ontario Goods

Canadian Press
Toronto, April 27.—There are scores of Maritime business men who hold an entirely different opinion of that Mr. Snell declared W. W. McPhee, founder of the Maritime Provinces Association of Toronto, commenting on the action of L. L. Snell, Sydney, N.S., bread manufacturer, in switching his order for raw materials from Ontario to Quebec and the St. Lawrence Valley.

Mr. Snell also published full page newspaper advertisements saying his action was in protest against the "one-sided" trade relations between the Maritimes and Ontario.

The three Maritime Provinces maintain a permanent trade commission in Toronto in charge of R. W. E. Burdaby, Mr. McPhee pointed out, "and since this bureau was established here there has been a great increase in trade and tourist traffic between Ontario and the Maritime Provinces."

FEDERAL AFFAIRS
"There is no such thing as a one-sided commercial relation between Ontario and the Maritime Provinces. While it is true railway rates may handicap the Maritime Provinces to some extent, it is utterly foolish for Mr. Snell to blame either Ontario or the Canadian tariff for any commercial disappointments he may have had. He does not seem to understand the Canadian tariff laws and tariff policies or he would know that they are regulated by the Dominion Government and not by Ontario."

BENEFITS FOR QUEBEC
Montreal, April 27.—Proposed boycott of Ontario products by Nova Scotia business men until Ontario buy more goods from the Maritimes would certainly be of great benefit to the province of Quebec industries at the expense of those in Ontario, R. F. Jelliet, vice-president of the Montreal Board of Trade, said when discussing the resolution to be considered by the Cape Breton Board of Trade at Sydney, N.S., to-day.

"The proposed move will certainly interest Montreal business men," Mr. Jelliet stated. Beyond that he said it was "very doubtful" if any officials or business men here would be willing to comment on the proposed measure before studying it as length and as questioning themselves with its many possibilities.

BOARDS TO MEET
Gloucester, N.S., April 27.—The mayors of Gloucester and New Waterford are endorsing the action of L. L. Snell, Sydney bread manufacturer, in switching his purchases of raw materials from Ontario in an effort to force the buying of more Maritime products by that province. Meetings of the town's boards of trade have been called to deal with the question.

CONSERVATIVE M.P.'s
Ottawa, April 27.—Confidence that Ontario Conservative members would support the Maritime Provinces' claims for greater tariff protection for iron, steel and coal was expressed here by L. D. MacDoughall, Conservative member for Inverness, and W. G. Ernst, Conservative member for Queen's-Lunenburg.

"We divided the House once on implementing the Duncan report and got practically 100 per cent support from the Conservatives of Ontario," Mr. MacDoughall said.

In a recent speech in the Commons Mr. MacDoughall said he would not support the forthcoming budget unless it dealt fairly with the Maritime claims in regard to steel and coal. This was taken as an indication the member was not then quite confident the Bennett government would grant all the requests of the Maritime members.

SWITCHING OF ORDERS
The situation has been brought particularly to the notice of the public by the action of L. L. Snell, bread manufacturer of Sydney, N.S., in switching his orders for supplies from Toronto to Montreal and the St. Lawrence Valley until Ontario uses its voting power to secure tariff protection for steel and coal through parliamentary channels.

As it is a matter of budget changes, members of the administration of course refuse to comment on the proposal. The budget is always a closely guarded secret until announced on the floor of the Commons.

In the past Ontario and the Maritimes have generally been found shoulder to shoulder in the matter of protection on steel. Nova Scotia and Ontario are the provinces most concerned in view of the many steel industries in Ontario as well as Cape Breton.

MacNider Sixth U.S. Republican Choice For Vice-president

By KEN CLARK, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Washington, April 27.—Col. Harbord MacNider, United States minister to Canada, named as sixth choice for Vice-president. Vice-presidential candidate in a poll of delegates to the 1928 convention by The Washington Post. In copying the story Charles Curtis an overwhelming majority as the running mate for Herbert Hoover in 1932, almost unanimously picked for re-election by the Republicans.

On the Vice-presidential list Col. MacNider's name follows those of Curtis, Theodore Roosevelt, Senator Dwight W. Morrow, Secretary of War Patrick Hurley and Representative John Q. Tilson.

EIGHT AUTOISTS LOSE THEIR LIVES

Carthage, N.Y., April 27.—Eight persons lost their lives and one was dying today in consequence of two automobile accidents here Saturday evening.

Five persons were believed to have been drowned in the St. Regis Canal at Carthage. The body of one was recovered.

Three persons were killed and the driver was injured seriously as their automobile went into a ditch on the Carthage natural bridge highway. Those who lost their lives were Miss Elizabeth Phelan, Thomas Johnson and Kenneth Johnson, nineteen, of West Carthage.

The body of James Kenyon, forty, of Watertown, was taken from the St. Regis Canal and searchers sought the bodies of Charles Young, forty-seven, and Wm. Brown, forty, of Watertown, known to have been with Kenyon, and two unidentified men seen in the car which went through the guard rail and dropped thirty feet into the canal.

Carrot prices of fresh Ontario and prairie eggs were unchanged. Extras being quoted at 21-22 cents, firsts at 19-20 cents and seconds at 17-17 1/2 cents a dozen. Quotations for re-graded one cent, fresh specials being quoted at 27 cents, fresh extras at 25 cents, fresh firsts at 23 cents and fresh seconds at 19 cents a dozen. Last week's receipts were 16,662 cases.

SNOW IN ONTARIO

Toronto, April 27.—Parts of Ontario suffered from the cold yesterday and several localities reported snow. Sault Ste. Marie reported two inches of snow. Cold rain turned to snow flurries at St. Thomas. A rain and sleet storm developed into a heavy gale at Sarnia, and Hamilton was also feeling the effects of a snowstorm yesterday evening.

WINNIPEG DEATH

Winnipeg, April 27.—Charles H. Whitaker, sixty-five, former sales manager of the Manitoba branch of the Massey-Harris Company Limited, died Saturday evening. He retired in 1926, after forty-five years' service with the firm.

The Spring Flower Show

By JOHN HUTCHISON, F.R.H.S.

The very best flower show that was ever held in Victoria took place at the Willows on the 17th and 18th of this month. Victoria and Island gardeners proved themselves to be, what all good gardeners should be, good sports. There were no money prizes this year, owing to many circumstances, but in spite of this there were more entries than ever before in the history of spring flower shows in Victoria.

The people of Victoria and the Island were always garden lovers and good judges of flowers, but this year there were more people at the show who showed, by the questions they asked, that they were becoming gardeners and more critical as to the quality of the exhibits than ever before.

While the season was a little late the finest blooms on exhibition that have ever been seen in Victoria, and while the season was a little early for tulips, there were many excellent blooms, particularly in the early classes.

At no time has the writer seen finer collections of spring flowering shrubs brought together, while the show of subjects suitable for the rock garden was worthy of a London show. One wishes that some of our English brothers could have seen our spring show, for it would have impressed upon them that our Pacific Coast is equal in every respect to the Old Land as a place for producing these plants.

The big bank of alpine plants shown by Mr. H. V. Brown, and the superb collection of beautiful alpine plants shown by Mr. F. B. Pemberton, together with the remarkable exhibit of greenhouse subjects shown by Mr. Salisbury, are cases in point. The tremendous advance made in the science and art of rock garden building was very evident. The rock garden shown by the Victoria Horticultural Society, and designed and built by Capt. Guy Sheppard, and the one shown by the North Saanich Horticultural Society, which was in the able hands of Mr. L. Taylor, as also Mrs. Hibbertson's exhibit, all showed that great advancement in the design and planting of rock gardens has been made. It is to be hoped that in future years more of these exhibits will be in evidence.

The children did some wonderful things. The miniature gardens, bird houses and other features which were shown proved beyond a doubt that the children are taking a greater interest in things that grow and in nature generally than ever before. Perhaps the greatest help along these lines has been given by the wonderful nature articles which Robert Connell contributes with such regularity to The Daily Times, and by the competitions sponsored by the Rotary Club.

As usual, the professional growers helped out the show by bringing in of their best, and they were a great deal of credit for the amount of time and labor they put in to make the show attractive.

The writer made another discovery at the spring show. Many people in Victoria had made the discovery before, but this was my first opportunity to make it. I refer to the girls' hands. This Victoria Institution, it is hoped, will be a regular feature of the spring flower show in future years. Not only do the girls play well, but their bright uniforms add much to the color of the surroundings.

While the band played on the two evenings of the show the attention of everyone present was centred on the music, and the flowers, for the time being, had to take second place. This is not to be wondered at, considering the use in every way excellent, reflecting great credit upon the young ladies themselves, and upon the committee of their handmaid.

The writer wants to put on record his appreciation of the excellence of the food provided by the ladies of the Victoria Women's Institute. They served his life twice a day during the

Branson Returns With Gains For Trust Shareholders

The prairies look down at the heels, but there is quite a bit of business being done in the east, according to C. H. Branson, broker, who is back in Victoria to-day after a couple of weeks in Toronto and Ottawa.

Mr. Branson, as director for British Columbia, attended the meeting in Toronto of the Canadian General Investment Trust at which he put forward claims in the interests of the B.C. shareholders. After a campaign he succeeded in getting many of these recognized to the advantage of local shareholders.

"There is a good deal of hope and optimism in business circles in Toronto and there is quite a bit moving," Mr. Branson said. "The prairies look sick, however, and what seedling is being carried on is being done in clouds of heavy dust that envelop the men and machines, so dry is the land."

GLACIER-GROUND ROCK FLOUR

The Athabasca River, which receives nearly all the drainage of Jasper National Park, Alberta, is always turbid or milky-colored with rock flour which a hundred glaciers have ground for its waters. The finest of this sediment is deposited on the bottom of Athabasca Lake, 500 miles northeast of the park, through which the river passes on its way to the Arctic Sea.

Wine production in France last year averaged two quarts for each resident.

SWEETSTAKES STOP SUBSCRIPTIONS

THOSE WHO ASSERT THAT SWEETSTAKES for hospitals will dry up the stream of public charity will find support for their views in a speech made by Viscount Powerscourt, chairman of the Irish Hospitals Trust. He said recently: "Sweetstakes were first inaugurated to pay off ghastly debts, and secondly, to put right decay and inefficiency, and they can never do anything in the way of endowing hospitals for their maintenance unless they go on at the present rate for many years, which is very unlikely."

He then says that these people who have given up subscribing to their favorite hospitals, believing as they do, no doubt, that the position is as they see it, are actually preventing some people from spending the sweep money, which was inaugurated for this purpose, on the very necessary improvements, because they have got to safeguard the future of hospitals financially, and have, therefore, to invest a large proportion of this money received from the sweeps and intended for improvements, to make good the deficiency in subscriptions.

"I do not think this is fair," he concludes, "and I know when the true position is placed before the charitable public they will see how unfair it is. I would most urgently ask them to reconsider their decision, and continue to help these institutions."

The question of legalizing sweetstakes in aid of hospitals now is being discussed in many countries; but there does not appear to be much prospect of any great deal of progress being made. Nor would it be a wise policy to adopt. For instance, if sweetstakes were made lawful as applying to hospitals, other institutions in need of financial assistance naturally would consider they had just as good a claim for help. Indeed, a condition might arise that sweetstakes would be held for almost everything.

The Irish sweep has won a good deal of popularity. But it has been held twice only; the novelty has not yet worn off. Were the practice to be legalized, however, and become general, the public would soon tire of the game, just as it has tired of tag days, despite the fact that many appeals for money by this method are entitled to liberal support.

MORE GOVERNMENT COSTS

IT HAS OCCURRED TO THE REGINA Leader-Post that the three Prairie Provinces ought to be able to get along with one Legislature and a Lieutenant-Governor instead of a Legislature and a Lieutenant-Governor apiece. It thinks the load of $560,000 a year in legislative salaries alone is "rather heavy." It sets out the bill of cost as follows:

ALBERTA (Population 646,000)
Lieutenant-Governor	$ 9,000
Prime Minister	8,500
Eight ministers at $6,000 each	48,000
Sessional indemnity, 63 at $2,000	126,000
Speaker	2,500
Deputy Speaker	750
Leader of Opposition	2,500
Total	$197,250
SASKATCHEWAN (Population 266,700)
Lieutenant-Governor	$ 9,000
Prime Minister	8,500
Seven ministers ($7,200)	50,400
Sessional indemnity, 63 at $2,000	126,000
Speaker	2,500
Deputy Speaker	750
Leader of Opposition	2,500
Total	$199,150
MANITOBA (Population 646,000)
Lieutenant-Governor	$ 9,000
Premier	8,500
Six ministers ($8,000)	48,000
One minister	9,000
Sessional indemnity, 55 at $2,000	110,000
Speaker	2,500
Leader of Opposition	2,500
Total	$189,000

These costs of government work out on a per capita basis as follows:
Alberta 30c
Saskatchewan 23c
Manitoba 28c

When population is taken into consideration it would appear that the Prairie Provinces are paying a lot of members of Parliament to govern them. And three representatives of the King for a little more than two millions of people—about a quarter of the population of the city of London—seems like overdoing the business.

BACK TO THE MIDLANDS

LANCASHIRE IS ABLE TO SAY TO THE rest of the counties of Great Britain that the English Cup, the chief laurel of Old Country football, has gone to that county fifteen times since the competition was established nearly sixty years ago; but West Bromwich Albion's victory on Saturday gives the Midlands its thirteenth triumph, leaving the London area with eleven wins, Yorkshire nine, and Wales one.

Saturday's game was interesting for the reason that it was a struggle between two Midland teams—West Bromwich and Birmingham. Hence the North and the South could send their devotees to the great stadium at Wembley quite free to indulge their fancies in a detached sort of way. This year's crowd, by the way, was quite different from that which watched the game between Blackburn Olympic and the Old Etonians on the occasion when the cup took its first journey north. That was in 1863, and there were nearly six thousand spectators on hand—a mere fraction of the attendance of Saturday. In those days the final used to be played at Kennington Oval, made famous since as the home ground of the Surrey County Cricket Club, with which the name of "Bobby" Ash for so many years was intimately associated.

It is a standing joke in London that thousands who make the annual pilgrimage to the metropolis to see "the final" never get anywhere near the gates at Wembley. They "do" the sights of the town and gradually wind their way to one of the railway termini tired and weary, but quite compensated for having gone "up for the cup."

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY'S FLIGHT

DEMOCRATIC PARTY LEADERS IN the United States are confident they will be able to capture the Cincinnati district, now unrepresented in the House of Representatives as the result of Speaker Longworth's death. Should this seat be transferred from the Republican to the Democratic column, the new House will include 217 Republicans, 217 Democrats and one Farmer-Laborite. In other words, Congress—the Senate and House—is now practically evenly divided, with the Republican insurgents still militant.

Mr. Longworth's death, according to one Washington correspondent, "is the gravest occasion for serious regret in a public sense," for it "brings further confusion to a situation already acutely confused." Other observers, who viewed Mr. Longworth as second only to the President in practical influence, agree that "the prospects for chaos" in Congress next session are increased. For one thing, as the Washington correspondent quoted observes, "in both parties, small factions will demand particular legislation or other concessions as the price of supporting the regular nominee for speaker."

How important Mr. Longworth was to the Hoover administration is indicated by Morris D. Ervin, Washington correspondent of The Cincinnati Times-Star, who says:

There is probably no member of the House who can command the united support of all the Republicans as Mr. Longworth was able to do. At the Republican caucus, held this year just before Congress adjourned, he was renominated unanimously.

It is true that some of the Insurgents did not attend the caucus, but it was well understood that their staying away was a political gesture, and that when the time came to vote in the House they would vote for Mr. Longworth.

Mr. Longworth was personally popular with every one in the House and for this reason, if for no other, the Insurgents refrained from making an open fight against him.

But now that Mr. Longworth has stepped out of the scene it is almost certain that the Republicans will become involved in a squabble among themselves over the Speakership.

In a way, he had become, at the moment of his death, the most important man in the Republican party.

The hope of the administration for the next two years rested upon Mr. Longworth's broad shoulders. Without control of the House of Representatives the administration may be worse than helpless, and its best chance of getting that control and keeping it was in Mr. Longworth.

His death has cast a deep shadow over the path that the administration must travel for the next two years.

No matter how the position of the political situation in the United States is looked at, it would appear that the Republican party is in for a difficult period.

MR. SCHWAB'S OPINION

TEN YEARS OF PROSPERITY ARE IN store for Canada and the United States. At least this is the opinion of Mr. Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, who addressed the American Newspaper Publishers' Association on the occasion of its annual dinner in New York on Thursday evening. He predicts that properties will be rehabilitated and improved, that electrification will receive fresh impetus, that prices will become better stabilized, that home industries will gain, that the automobile will reach new high levels, that advertising will make great strides.

Mr. Schwab declared also that one way of returning prosperity was by maintaining a high wage scale, and in this connection it is his hope "that nothing will develop in our economic structure which will compel the taking of a backward step."

There is no gainsaying the fact that this country and the neighboring republic are passing through troublous times; but it is not a new experience. There have been crises before. It is refreshing, however, to have a message of optimism from one like Mr. Schwab, who is able to get to the heart of things and base his views on something more than mere conjecture.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

BRITISH POLITICS

The New Statesman

What is the real issue in British politics? To-day they are taking on the appearance of a pantomime in a hospital; the politicians play their variety parts and the public, conscious of ailments which are not assuaged by laughter, watch the irrelevant entertainment with growing distaste. All of the jolly buff of the party conflict continues, the bargains, the close divisions and the personalities, the sudden exits and entrances, the wit, the eloquence and badinage. Parliament does not lose.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD'S BUST AT EARNSCLIFFE
Mail and Empire

The whole nation will approve the thoughtful act of the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett in placing a bronze bust of Sir John A. Macdonald in Earningscliffe, the official residence of Sir William Clark, British High Commissioner to Canada. This residence was formerly the home of Canada's first Prime Minister. The bust is the work of a British sculptor, William Reynolds-Stephens. While not clear upon this point, we think that this bronze portrait is a replica of the bust which adorns the crypt of St. Paul's Cathedral, London. It was at the unveiling of this bust in the autumn of 1902 that Lord Rosebery made his famous statement:

We know nothing of party politics in Canada on this occasion. We recognize only the fact that Sir John Macdonald has grasped the central idea that the British Empire is the greatest secular agency for good now known to mankind; and this was the secret of his success; and that he determined to die under it, and strove that Canada should live under it.

At the base of the bust runs Sir John's famous statement, made in Toronto a few months before his death: "A British subject I was born; a British subject I will die." A year before Sir John's death, the famous Professor Walden, M.P., who belonged to a well-known Maritime Province family, made this remarkable prediction: "In the times to come, when the things of to-day have assumed their true proportion, all men will recognize what Canada owes to Sir John Macdonald, and they will go about erecting statues to him in the market places of the people."

Loose Ends

An evil is discussed without finality—An interesting thing happens in Chicago—And Mr. Pudbury fails ignominiously.

By H. B. W.

OF ALL the evils which have followed the so-called enlightenment of mankind, none is more aggravating and more dangerous, I think, than the science of psychology. In the hands of experts it may be fairly safe, I suppose, just as are electricity, dynamite and chemicals. But in the hands of ignorant people, that is to say almost all of us, it is a devastating weapon, an enemy against our happiness. Everywhere you come upon its evidences. You hear ignorant people, like me, talking about their friends having "inferiority complexes," or "suppressed desires," "inhibitions" and all sorts of other curious and undesirable things such as our grandfathers never heard of.

IGNORANT AS I AM, I realize, of course, that our grandfathers were little different from us in actual nature, that they were affected by what we call inferiority complexes, that they had suppressed desires (though not many for they didn't usually attempt to suppress them) and doubtless felt inhibitions, though I am not quite sure what they were. But our grandfathers, ignorant of psychology, had this immeasurable advantage over us—they had no names for these things, no scientific trappings and high-sounding jargon to make them seem important. A man in those days could go along with an insouciant air, without even suspecting it, until he probably forgot that it altogether and became a prime minister, a newspaper columnist or a successful bank robber. But to-day the poor fellow would discover, either through the advice of his well-meaning friends, or by reading any of the better magazines, that he had an inferiority complex, and thus named, labeled and distinguished, it would remain with him like an incurable disease the rest of his life.

WHAT IS worse, instead of being forgotten, because unnamed, it would grow and develop until it overshadowed everything else in his nature and made him so inferior that he would be good for nothing at all. Why, this very day a young woman of average intelligence and good education told me that she never wanted to meet strangers who were her social equals because she had an inferiority complex. Instead, she prefers the company of her children and her cook, whom she can abuse and feel superior. Had she never heard of psychology, had she never been educated, she might have been regarded as a little haughty, but she would have been a reasonable member of society. As it is, she will never rise above her smattering of psychology, her inferiority complex. No psychology should be confined entirely to learned professors whose lives can't be any more unhappy anyway, and to young gentlemen who sell automobiles and soap, and who really don't know what psychology means. For the rest of us it is better not to know too much about ourselves to keep plunging along in happy ignorance of the truth.

ONE OF the minor incidents of Chicago's recent civic election which was overlooked by the outside world I regard as rather important. The Chicago Tribune, it seemed, had prepared an elaborate obituary of Mayor Thompson some years ago when he was ill, as every newspaper does. (There are hundreds of obituaries carefully prepared and indexed in this office, and if you are a man of prominence, like a member of the City Council, most likely your whole life story is lying neatly in the morgue here, against the day when it will be needed.) Well, in the middle of the recent mayoralty campaign, just when The Tribune was withering Mayor Thompson with its strongest fire, suddenly the Mayor produced a copy of The Tribune's obituary which apparently had been smuggled out of the newspaper office in some way. The obituary, like all obituaries, was complimentary, and the Mayor contended that this was The Tribune's real opinion of him. (Precisely the same thing, by the way, happened to The Vancouver Star not long ago in connection with Mayor Taylor.)

NOW ALL this, of course, was embarrassing to The Tribune, which was in the act of calling the Mayor among other charming things, a "dunk" and it raised the broad question of how newspapers should estimate the quick and the dead. Heywood Brown, the famous commentator of The New York World-Telegram, came out boldly with a demand that newspapers in future take back nothing when a man dies but, instead, repeat in his obituary what they have said about him when he was alive. This, I think is sound. There is no danger that any decent man will suffer by it; for the newspapers, even when a man is alive, are notoriously gentle and kind, no matter what their secret opinion may be. But why a man should be called a dunk, for instance, one day and then lauded the next, merely because he has died, which is the easiest and most inevitable thing a man can do, I cannot understand. And it is so futile anyway, for a few years hence the biographers' brigade will get busy and the newspapers will tell the truth, and when men know that even when dead there will be no apologies for them, then perhaps, they will be at greater pains to live properly.

I PREDICTED some time ago that there would be another hair-raising chapter to the grisly story of murder in our goldfish pond. As usual, I was right. The kingfisher who recently discovered our goldfish came back again yesterday, and this time we were ready for him. He seemed to be in his piercing shriek that George Pudbury had strangled up to the chin post. Mr. Pudbury, carrying a rock with which, he said, he could certainly kill the enemy, for he had been trained to throw hand grenades in the war. But alas, Mr. Pudbury's training had been forgotten in the soft years of peace and he missed by ten feet. Never mind said Mr. Pudbury, he would bring over his gun, with which, from long military training, he never missed.

WELL, THE kingfisher came again to-day, and this time Mr. Pudbury advanced, rusty gun in hand. Taking careful aim, he fired. The water was a great roar, which shook the neighborhood, the kingfisher flew slowly away with marked contempt, and Mr. Pudbury found himself lying on his back on the ground in my pained but murmuring, "Who hit me, sir?" When the matter was explained to him, Mr. Pudbury was still equal to the occasion. "Well, you see, sir," said he, "it's like this—I'm a gunner all right, but I'm trained with the big guns in the artillery. This blinkin' gun here, it's too small for me. Give me a nine-inch howitzer and I'll get your kingfisher for you sure." I am therefore issuing this appeal for nine-inch howitzers, that readers of this column may not be using at the moment. Meanwhile Mr. Pudbury tells his wife, as she rubs liniment into his right shoulder every night, that our black horse ran away again and injured him with a plough handle.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES
APRIL 27, 1906
(From The Times Files)

John Montgomery, erecting engineer of fog alarms for the Dominion Government, is in the city on official business. The federal government is determined that adequate facilities for mariners in foggy weather shall be provided for this coast, and has at present under consideration the introduction of fog alarms at different points, one of which has been erected, and the erection of two more is the object of Mr. Montgomery's present visit.

An enthusiastic meeting of the civic committee of the Victoria Development and Improvement Association was held at the rooms, Fort Street, last evening when a number of matters of importance were discussed. The improvement to the numerous beautiful scenic drives in the vicinity of Victoria, the boulevarding of the principal thoroughfares, the placing of seats for the convenience of visitors upon the grounds surrounding the Parliament buildings, and numerous other questions were debated.

The eighty-seventh anniversary of the introduction of Old Fellowship to the continent of America was celebrated last evening by members of the order and their friends at the hall, Douglas Street.

Weather forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Light to moderate winds, unsettled and coolish showers.

There appears to be some uncertainty now as to whether the Victoria Baseball Club will be reorganized. Some days ago it was announced that a final and definite agreement by the directors of the Oak Bay Park Association with the breakwater job a good many years ago, it may be that I know a little more about the strike than he thinks. I knew him shortly after he arrived from Norway, and he apparently has not yet acquired the full tradition of British seamen. Incidentally, if he writes again he might tell us what Norwegian tug skippers draw as pay compared with British Columbia skippers. Probably about half.

Another bit of information from one who "doesn't know what he is writing about" His tug has been laid up for months. How comes it that he is already preparing his tug for service? He has evidently signed up with the union during the last few days, and will thus be permitted to start his crew from amongst the seven who quit in Victoria, or if these are not to his taste, he has about 300 striking tugboat men to draw upon from Vancouver.

TUGBOAT STRIKE
To the Editor:—In Saturday's Times there is a letter by H. Mathieson, skipper and owner of the tug Superior, which merits a reply. As I happen to know Mr. Mathieson from my association with the breakwater job a good many years ago, it may be that I know a little more about the strike than he thinks. I knew him shortly after he arrived from Norway, and he apparently has not yet acquired the full tradition of British seamen. Incidentally, if he writes again he might tell us what Norwegian tug skippers draw as pay compared with British Columbia skippers. Probably about half.

Another bit of information from one who "doesn't know what he is writing about" His tug has been laid up for months. How comes it that he is already preparing his tug for service? He has evidently signed up with the union during the last few days, and will thus be permitted to start his crew from amongst the seven who quit in Victoria, or if these are not to his taste, he has about 300 striking tugboat men to draw upon from Vancouver.

And how the mate got his revenge by writing in the log the next day: "The skipper was a soper to-day." Both were correct. Thus Mr. Mathieson will admit there was justification for my letter in The Times urging that not more than seven make fools or paupers of themselves. The skippers of the large transportation companies' boats are still working. Quite true. But if the companies tore up their agreements with the guild, and gave all-round increases to the skippers and mates, as some towing concerns have done, there would be a strike ordered within sixty days. The guild wishes to control the shipping, and the guild cannot control the shipping, else we should soon have a condition akin to Australia's sorry plight through permitting union labor to run that country and repudiate its just debts. Australia, through its labor unions, has killed the geese that laid the golden eggs, and must apparently get out of the mess by issuing $50,000,000 in fiduciary notes.

For several months some lumber companies have had a ten per cent cut in force as regards skippers and mates, and this has been passed along to the public in the shape of lower-priced building materials. Fair enough to all of us. The skippers and mates are probably quite satisfied, but the guild sees in the move a loss of prestige. The guild sends out ballots to its 1,600 members, and 900, according to the guild, voted for the strike. Thus the wishes of the 600 are ignored, and the general strike order goes out. At least seventy-five tug crews obey the order (they have to) and seventy-five or more tugs are tied up at Vancouver, and the crews probably swelling the ranks of the unemployed. The action of one striking skipper cannot possibly be condoned, for he cast off his tow and steamed for home. The union, of course, will insist that he get his pay for that nice sea trip.

Skippers of tugs around Victoria get from $200 per month downwards, plus board, according to class. Mates, $120 per month downwards, plus board. Without board and berth, add $1.50 per day. All get two weeks off per year with full pay, and twenty-four hours off each week with full pay.

The notice sent by the guild on April 10 to all tug owners, including those who pay higher than guild wages, is interesting in parts, and almost appears to be a threat. For instance: "Such companies as sign and return this agreement by April 16 will not be involved in the event of a general strike." And again: "We feel confident that you will co-operate with us in this matter, and will readily see the advantage of taking this opportunity to avoid any inconvenience in your tugboat service." In other words, sign our agreement, giving us full control of the shipping industry for another year, or look out for some "inconvenience in your tugboat service." Mr. Mathieson has evidently signed on the dotted line, and being a Norwegian he wouldn't see a scrap of humor in thus contracting to pay himself, the skipper, $170 per

FUL-VUE

A BEAUTIFUL FRAME quite different FROM ALL OTHERS

In the new, modern Ful-vue frames, the temples or "earpieces" are attached high up where you don't see them when you glance to the side. This patented Ful-vue construction always keeps your glasses up before your eyes where they belong—up where they look well, and do their work properly. Let us show you Ful-vue, the greatest improvement in spectacle frame design in years.

From The Lancet, March 14, 1931:

"In spite of immunization and administration of antitoxin the mortality in Berlin from diphtheria has been extraordinarily high. Eminent professors have, consequently, met in conference to debate the efficacy of the treatment."

"Friedberger maintained that the remarkably favorable results that followed the introduction of antitoxin in the nineties of the last century were really due to a natural decline in the severity of the disease."

... he has come to the conclusion that the diphtheria curve had been in no way affected by the introduction of antitoxin.

"As regards active immunization against diphtheria, Friedberger was also convinced that its introduction had not caused any change in the occurrence of epidemics, and that all the statistics as to its success, which mainly emanated from American sources, were based on the erroneous conclusion that the decline in the incidence of diphtheria was due to immunization, whereas the decline was already showing a tendency to abate."

month plus board. If he goes carefully on the board business, which his various crews say he does, he might even clear $200 per month. On the other hand, he might not clear at all. At any rate, he must make enough to pay his union dues, or the guild will lose all interest in him; and might even try to inconvenience his tugboat service, if and when he acquires any.

ARGENTINA WINS ZONE PLAY FROM CHILEAN STARS

Santiago, Chile, April 27—Argentina won the South American zone Davis Cup final yesterday, capturing two singles matches to clinch the victory over Chile with three straight triumphs. The Argentine doubles team defeated the Chileans in the opening match of the tie Saturday.

By winning the first three of the five scheduled matches, the Argentines won the right to face the North American zone winner, still to be determined, in the interzone competition. Andriano Zappa, Argentina's No. 1 player, was given the hardest struggle of the three matches by the Chilean substitute player, Egan Schoenher. The scores were 2-6, 6-2, 6-0, 6-0. Schoenher substituted for Chile's leading player, Elias Delf, who was injured a few days ago. In the second singles match, Guillermo Robson clinched the victory for Argentina by defeating Lionel Page, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4.

ROADS EXPERTS MEET IN MAY

Inter-provincial Conference on Highways Opens at Ottawa May 20

Montreal, April 27.—The twelfth Inter-provincial Conference on highway and allied problems, sponsored by the Canadian Good Roads' Association, will be held in Ottawa on May 20 and 21 next. The wide scope of the agenda is indicated by the fact that among the subjects to be discussed will be federal aid for highways and for railway grade crossing elimination; uniformity of traffic codes for all the Canadian provinces; urban responsibility for rural highway construction and maintenance; uniform control and equitable taxation of commercial vehicles; promotion of tourist traffic; dustlayers for gravel roads; international reciprocity in recognition of license registration and plates; compulsory insurance or financial responsibility legislation for motorists; and education of all users of the highways in the interests of the public safety.

It is expected that between thirty and forty delegates will attend the conference. The Dominion Government will be represented, both directly and through a member of official of the Board of Railway Commissioners. Each province is entitled to be represented by its minister of highways or of colonization and by deputy ministers and executives of these departments, and in previous years a majority of the provinces have been so represented. Both of the two large transportation systems will have delegates, while other bodies joining in the conference include the Canadian Auto Manufacturers and Exporters' Association, the Railway Association of Canada, and, of course, the Canadian Good Roads Association, which called the first conference in 1912 and has continued to organize them in each succeeding year.

An important feature of the conference's proceedings will be the report of the fact-finding committee which functions throughout the year and holds frequent meetings for detailed study of the various problems which come before the annual gathering. The committee's reports, and the decisions taken thereon by the conference, are taken into careful consideration by the Dominion and Provincial Governments when any legislation touching upon highway and motor vehicle matters is in hand.

U.S. EXPORT TRADE SHOWS HEAVY CUT

Washington, April 27.—Export trade of the United States declined twenty-seven per cent on a dollar basis and nineteen per cent in quantity in 1930, as compared with 1929, according to a report issued by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The analysis discloses a falling off of 23 per cent on the dollar value and 13 per cent in quantity compared with the average exports for the five-year period 1925 to 1929. While the report lists a number of all-time high records for particular exports, there are of lesser importance in the total export figure of $3,843,000,000.

COTTON AND MOTORS HIT
Unmanufactured cotton, the leading export of the United States, was shipped abroad during 1930 to the amount of 3,492,000,000 pounds, valued at $497,000,000, the smallest quantity exported since 1924 and the lowest value since 1918. Exports of automobiles in 1930 were only half what they were in 1929, amounting in value to $277,000,000, the lowest since 1924.

Of the petroleum products, gasoline and naphtha, of which $59,000,000 barrels valued at $251,000,000 were sold, showed an increase of 8 per cent in quantity, but a decline of 6 per cent in value.

OTHER HEAVY DECREASES
Despite large purchases of agricultural machinery by Soviet Russia, exports decreased 18 per cent in value. Lumber exports during 1930 represented a decline in quantity of 36 per cent and in value of 19 per cent. The average export price of wheat for 1930 was $1 a bushel, as against $1.25 in 1929. Exports of wheat declined 3 per cent in quantity and 46 per cent in value below the five-year average. Wheat flour exports were off 4 per cent in volume and 14 per cent in value as compared with 1929. Foreign nations bought more United States grapefruit, pears, canned meats, radios, aircraft, bathing suits, electric fans, electric batteries, rayon goods and gasoline than ever before.

Metchosin

A large number of people from William Head, Albert Head, Metchosin and Rocky Point on Friday evening attended the excellent entertainment presented by the Metchosin and District Community Club at Metchosin Hall. Electric lights had been installed during the week in anticipation of this event, and the club received many congratulations upon the improvement. The programme was as follows: Community singing, "Give Yourself a Pat on the Back" and "Pack Up Your Troubles"; songs by Mrs. G. F. Weir, "Carmen" and "Philosophy" comic songs in costume by Ned Ashe, "Buying an Automobile" and "Gold Fish"; one-act play, "Noblesse Oblige," by Mrs. Frude and Mrs. Jones; musical selections, by A. D. Ellwood; comic songs by Mrs. Pennington, and a comedy in costume, by W. G. Milsted; songs sketch, "Packing up," by Mrs. Baynes, N. Ashe and W. G. Milsted. Major Pennington, president of the club, accompanied the singers and announced that another entertainment would be given in three or four weeks, to be followed by a business meeting of the club, when future activities will be considered. A buffet supper was followed by dancing, music being provided by members of the club.

CIRCUS FREAKS ELOPE IN WEST

He was a South African "wild man." She was a circus freak, with lips distended as large as saucers. That did not prevent them from eloping, a love match it was said. But what did matter is that they were reported to have taken $500 belonging to the woman's husband, and to have fled to the United States. The woman's husband, a South Sea Islander, made the complaint when he missed the $500.

Thinking Men invest in Life Insurance

IN years gone by, man sought independence for himself and family by diligently saving part of his earnings and gradually accumulating a "nest-egg" to provide for old age, death or other eventuality.

Today, thinking men reverse the procedure. They first create an estate, with the aid of Life Insurance, and then pay for it out of income. These men regard Life Insurance as the most important of all investments—one which immediately guarantees protection for loved ones, education for the children and independence in later years.

What other investment offers so much?

By owning Life Insurance you can have the confidence that comes from having certain definite resources behind you—reserve funds that you can depend on for future needs. And Life Insurance encourages systematized saving—the foundation of success.

Think what your financial position will be ten or twenty years from now. Then ask a Life Insurance Representative to assist you in planning independence for yourself and family.

GOVERNMENT ENTERTAINS HEADMISTRESSES

Distinguished Visitors Guests at Informal Dinner Saturday; Only Two Toasts

With the informality for which the visitors made a special plea, the party of British headmistresses were tendered a dinner by the Provincial Department of Education at the Empress Hotel on Saturday evening. The affair was held in the Princess Louise private dining-room, covers being laid for forty-four at a table charmingly arranged with spring flowers. Hon. J. Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, presided.

TWO TOASTS
On their journey across the dominion the teachers have been so hospitably entertained and so surfeited with speeches, both received and given, that, in deference to their expressed wish, Saturday evening's programme was of a most informal character. Only two toasts were given, both the toast and the response being limited to two minutes. Dr. S. J. Willis, superintendent of education, proposed the toast to the visitors, to which Miss Barrie, M.A., principal of King Edward's High School, Birmingham, replied. While Miss Tweedie, principal of Edinburgh Ladies' College, proposed the health of British Columbia and Victoria, to which Mayor Ansonby responded.

OTHER GUESTS
In addition to the visiting headmistresses, the guests included Mrs. S. P. Tolmie, Hon. Joshua and Mrs. Hinchliffe, Mayor and Mrs. H. Ansonby, Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Willis, Magistrate George Jay, Inspector and Mrs. George Deane, Professor and Mrs. P. H. Elliott, Professor and Mrs. E. S. Farr, Capt. and Mrs. W. H. Molson, B. C. Nicholas, Miss Williams, Girls' Central School, Miss Roberts, Seton College, Miss Ashworth, Miss Denny and Miss Geoghegan of Dunbar, Miss Aitkens, Norfolk House School, Miss O'Brien, St. Margaret's School, Miss Russell, St. Margaret's School, Miss Cree, and H. Charlesworth, B.C. Teachers' Federation.

Following the dinner, the visitors were taken on a tour of inspection of the Provincial Archives. Yesterday morning the teachers filled a number of private engagements, many of them with former pupils, and left on the afternoon boat on their return journey east.

TO RESIDE IN TORONTO

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Salmond whose marriage took place at Christ Church Cathedral on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Salmond was formerly Miss Hope Leeming.

Society

Mr. H. D. Twigg, M.P.P., visited Salt Spring Island during the week-end.

Mr. Reginald Carver visited Salt Spring Island Sunday to spend the day at Vesuvius Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Litchfield Bowden and their little daughter returned to Salt Spring Island after a short visit in Victoria.

Miss Peggy Brindley has returned to her home on Newport Avenue after an extended absence in New York, during which she graduated from the American Academy of Dramatic Art.

Mr. W. D. N. Patterson has returned to Victoria from the University of British Columbia to spend the summer vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Patterson, 1614 St. Patrick Street.

Miss Nancy Ferguson, who has been attending the University of British Columbia, returned to Victoria yesterday afternoon to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferguson, Douglas Street.

Mr. Tom Scorton of Prince George, who is a student at the University of British Columbia, is visiting in Victoria as the guest of his uncle and aunt, Captain and Mrs. W. Bell, Belmont Avenue.

The Premier and Mrs. S. P. Tolmie have received word of the arrival of a baby daughter to Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Clair Harvey at Clifton, Bristol, England, on Friday, April 24. Mrs. Harvey was formerly Miss Carol Tolmie.

The engagement is announced of Herbert Stanley Beckton, son of the late Herbert Beckton and Mrs. J. Beckton, and Constantine Mary, youngest daughter of the late Mr. Arthur Alfred Rowley Heyland and of Mrs. Heyland.

Archdeacon of Columbia and Mrs. E. P. Laycock left yesterday for Vancouver, whence Mrs. Laycock will proceed via Prince Rupert, to the east on route for England, where she will spend the summer months. The Archdeacon will attend the annual meeting of the Synod of British Columbia, to be held in Vancouver this week.

Mrs. J. A. Merrick, The Uplands, was hostess on Friday afternoon for the play-reading given by Mrs. Guy Goddard, who chose to read on this occasion, "The Apple Cart," by George Bernard Shaw. There were about thirty-five guests present and after the reading a delightful tea was served by the hostess. The next play-reading will be given at the home of Mrs. Robertson's home on Belmont Avenue on May 8.

Mrs. J. Hobden Gillespie will loan her home "Windyhaugh," Fairfield Road, on Friday afternoon of this week for a play-reading followed by tea in aid of the funds of the Cloness Chapter, I.O.G.E., when Mrs. Guy Goddard will read a play which was given to her in London last summer by Miss Doris Keene, also famous actress, at whose home "The Windmill," some time ago, was a guest. As Miss Keene had become interested in Mrs. Goddard's work, she gave her a copy of a manuscript of a play which she had had translated for her own use as a starting vehicle, but which she has not yet produced.

W.B.A. OPENS CONVENTION HERE TO-DAY

Mrs. Bina West Miller Tells of Growth of Organization at Opening Service

$50,000 Victoria City Bonds Among Assets; $30,000,000 Reserve Fund

Head of the organization which she founded in 1892 without funds, and which to-day has grown to a membership of 250,000 with a reserve fund of $30,000,000 of which $50,000 is invested in Victoria City bonds, Mrs. Bina West Miller, supreme president of the Women's Benefit Association, gave an impressive address at the City Temple yesterday evening. The occasion was the convention service preceding the annual British Columbia provincial convention which is holding its sessions to-day in the Empress Hotel.

MANY DELEGATES
Attending the service in a body were the local members of the W.B.A. reviews, also the delegates to the convention, including eighty-five from Vancouver, forty-two from Nanaimo, thirty-two from Courtenay, five from Cumberland, and one from Nelson, B.C., also a pioneer member from Idaho, Mrs. Stickleby. Honor guests of the association included Mrs. Caroline O'Brien of Vancouver, a provincial field director; Mrs. Kathryn Bowen of Seattle, Washington State Director, and Mrs. Laura Le Gallais of Vancouver, provincial health supervisor.

Mrs. West Miller, who was introduced by Dr. Davies, after expressing her appreciation of the co-operation of the City Temple authorities in arranging the service, pointed out that the W.B.A. had a close relationship with the churches, in that its members embraced every creed and denomination. Its membership composed women of all classes organized together for mutual self-helpfulness, and the association ministered to their practical needs, in the same way that the church ministered to their spiritual needs.

CANADIAN REVENUES
The speaker recalled her founding of the association in 1892, without members and without funds, and proudly pointed to the fact that to-day it comprised 250,000 members in the United States and Canada. It had a reserve fund of $32,000,000 and had paid out to date $41,000,000 in death benefits. The association invested the rate payments made by Canadian members in including $50,000 in Victoria City bonds, as well as a large sum in Vancouver bonds.

In addition to the reviews, the association included in its program a junior department, girls' clubs, a Greek letter society, known as "Gamma Nu," the Westway Clubs for young girls, and the Pioneer Clubs for members of twenty-five years' standing and over. The association was particularly interested in the training and education of children, said Mrs. West Miller, and she expressed belief in the thought that if a child could have the proper environment, supervision and physical care, many of the problems occurring in later life would be obviated.

She urged the women to live in such a way as to make life happier for those about them, and to be impersonal in their dealings with others. If less attention were paid to the little disagreeable things often said in moments of thoughtlessness and heat, peace would be gained, together with the ability to go through life with strength and courage to overcome the larger obstacles. "We all rise to the great sorrows of illness and death, but we are not strong enough to rise above the little irritations which destroy our health and happiness," she said.

MAYOR'S WELCOME
Mayor Herbert Ansonby welcomed the delegates at this morning's session and in tendering them greetings said, in part, "It is most surprising, and, in this day and age, that we find ladies with the necessary ability to supervise any business institution, but the operation of a fraternal benefit association requires the very highest type of organizing and executive ability to meet with success, and that the Women's Benefit Association is so successful is a splendid tribute to all the officers of your organization."

The Mayor congratulated the association on its policy in investing its Canadian fees in Canadian securities, thus helping to build up the Dominion while at the same time affording the members protection for themselves and their families. It was a good omen, he said, that the women were now willing to share the responsibilities not alone of local and national government, but in all matters affecting the public welfare.

Miss West Miller replied to the Mayor's cordial greeting in a happy little speech. Vocal solos were contributed by Mrs. W. D. Todd, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Deaville, Mrs. Caroline O'Brien, of Vancouver, welcomed the delegates.

Report of the treasury committee and other routine business occupied the balance of the morning session. At midday a luncheon was tendered to the delegates, with Mrs. E. W. Laing as convener. A brief programme included the toast to the King, proposed by Mrs. W. D. Todd; a toast to the Supreme President, proposed by Mrs. R. Ritchie, to which Mrs. Bina West Miller responded; and a toast to the Provincial Field Director and Health Supervisor, Mrs. Caroline O'Brien and Mrs. Le Gallais responding, and a toast to the visitors by Mrs. E. W. Laing.

WILL REPORT ON BIRTH CONTROL

U.S. Presbyterian Assembly to Hear Commission's Findings Soon

New York, April 27.—A statement that it is wrong to bring children into the world without adequate provision for them is contained in a report of a special commission on marriage, divorce and remarriage to be presented to the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church at Pittsburgh, May 28 to June 3.

The report, made public to-day, was signed by all members of the commission.

"Earnest Christian people," says the report, "are asking for the church's guidance on the subject of birth control. This subject demands attention to-day as never before. Economic conditions and a worthy standard of living make it wrong to bring children into the world without adequate provision for their nurture and proper consideration for the health of the mother."

MORAL CONTROL
"The Christian conception of sex clothes the relationship between husband and wife with spiritual significance, sanctifying marriage as a divine institution. Moral control is the basis essential to a worthy experience of a marriage relation."

The report deplores the prevalence of divorce and condemns "the deliberate steps taken by married people to secure divorce in order to remarry." The commission urges the church reaffirm its position that divorce be sanctioned only in cases of wilful desertion or adultery.

DIVORCE JUSTIFIED
"When," says the recommendation, "husband and wife have been divorced on either of the two grounds authorized by the Scriptures, the innocent party is justified in remarriage on a Christian basis."

French Woman Barrister Here To-morrow

Vancouver, April 27.—French delegate to a congress of international federation of university women, which met recently at Wesley Mass, Dr. Verlier-Duray, eminent woman barrister and secretary of the Paris Bar Association, is visiting Vancouver. She will visit Victoria to-morrow.

Madame Verlier-Duray was shown this morning through Vancouver courthouse, where she saw the law courts in action. She was introduced to the judges, including Chief Justice Morrison and Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald.

Although Madame Verlier-Duray has been practicing her profession scarcely eight years, she has established a reputation in Paris as an able advocate. While in Vancouver she is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Campbell, Cedar Crescent, who will address university women there to-morrow.

After the congress had finished its work in Wesley, Madame Verlier-Duray extended her visit to the Pacific coast, at the end of the time she has been entertained by the New York Bar Association.

She will leave for Victoria on the midnight boat and return on Wednesday, when she will depart for the east, stopping at Calgary, Saskatoon, Regina, Winnipeg and Montreal.

VICTIM OF AUTO CRASH BURIED

New Westminster, April 27.—Impressive services were held Sunday afternoon for Audrey N. Goss, victim of an automobile accident. The funeral is believed to be the largest ever held in this city, about 3,000 persons attending. Half of whom were unable to obtain admission to Queen's Avenue United Church. Hundreds of others gathered with a great throng at the grave in the Fraser Cemetery, so great was the attendance at cemetery that the police had a clear way for the funeral cortege.

Rev. Dr. W. S. Reid conducted the services.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer any questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

WEAN BEFORE THE WEATHER ARRIVES

Having nursed the baby successfully for eight or nine months, the mother views the approach of weaning with apprehension. This necessary separation is disagreeable for mother and child and she delays it as long as possible. But we must go forward. Development, nutrition, and more advanced methods of eating wait upon weaning. No state should ever be continued beyond the point at which the disadvantage outweigh the advantages.

The next two months are the desirable ones for weaning. There is no longer any such alternative as "nursing through the summer." Only one mother out of a thousand can nurse her baby after the ninth month. Undernourishment is one of the foremost penalties paid by the infant for prolonged nursing, and the season itself demands that baby shall be well used to any new type of feeding before summer complicates matters.

GRADUAL METHOD BEST

The baby who has been thriving on breast milk may be weaned slowly. This is most comfortable for mother and child. It is only when the baby has already begun to show the effects of prolonged nursing that weaning can be more or less abrupt. Our leaflet on "Helpful Advice on How to Wean the Baby" has been used so successfully that we have no hesitancy in suggesting it. A self-addressed, stamped envelope must be sent to this department with each request for the leaflet.

If baby refuses to take a bottle, and some are stubbornly set against one, the mother need not throw up her hands in despair and decide that she must continue nursing or baby will starve to death. Babies are not made that way. Besides, there are always cups and spoons to replace a bottle.

WEANING BY CUP

Suppose the mother wants to start with one bottle feeding daily which the baby spurns. She may take this eight-ounce preparation—six ounces of milk, two ounces of water and one teaspoonful of sugar—and divide it up into four equal parts. These two ounces may be offered by cup before each of the regular nursings. Make a delightful game of it. Do not become excited if baby spits out part of it, or refuses to swallow. Keep right on offering it. Then nurse the baby. Do this for a week. Then prepare twice as large a formula and give four ounces by cup, perhaps only one tablespoonful at a time in a small light cup. Encourage the baby to hold the cup with his own hands even if the mother guides it and prevents his being deluged with milk. Keep on in this manner until baby is getting eight ounces of formula every four hours by cup, and no nursings at all.

Weaning is a necessary step. It can't be postponed. Force antagonizes a child and should not be used. The mother must find some peaceful and effective method by which she can convince the baby of the desirability of this new food. There is always a way if the mother conscientiously desires to find one.

To-morrow: "Mismanagement Creates Unfortunate Situation."

BALLET PART OF "FRA DIAVOLO"

Visiting Ballerina Assisting in Training of Dancers For May 1 and 2

The ballet to be given in the forthcoming production of "Fra Diavolo" at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Friday and Saturday, May 1 and 2, will be the most finished performance of its kind ever given in the city.

Gabrielle Steedman, who evolved the ballet, studied with Edward Rapinosa and Maestro Enrico Cecchetti, ballet master at the Imperial Conservatoire in Petrograd, the teacher of Anna Pavlova, Lignisky, Volinine and all the great Russian ballerinas, including the great ballerina Preprajinsky. Mile. Steedman danced in the Pavlova and Diaghileff ballets in London, and also appeared in numerous musical comedy successes at the Gaiety, Garrick, and Drury Lane theatres, and was in the Tiller Troupe at the Folies Bergeres, Paris.

Mile. Steedman is visiting in Victoria and is assisting Mrs. Dorothy Wilson in preparing the ballet in which Wanda de Turczynowicz, Doreen Wilson, Wynne Shaw, Kay Shaw, Barbara Hulke, Myra Edwards, Mary Senkler, Rene Lambert, Wynette Lammer and Helen Ross will take part.

An entirely new color scheme will be introduced into the costumes worn by the corps de ballet. Mail orders may be sent now to the Royal Victoria Theatre. The box office opens Wednesday. The proceeds of "Fra Diavolo" will be handed to the Solarium.

A programme has been adopted for a subway system in Rome that eventually will include six underground railways serving the entire city.

and the older baby, the more desirable these methods are.

One of the most extraordinary echoes in the world is to be heard by the side of a small lake in Bavaria. On one side rises a tall cliff and on the other side a dense forest. A pistol fired across the lake creates a faint echo that diminishes almost to nothing. Then it is picked up by the cliff and thrown back like thunder.

One hundred and fifty years ago the only known method of generating electricity was to rub glass, wax or resin with the dry hand or with a dry cloth, and a popular amusement consisted of two people doing this and giving each other an electric kiss.

Winnie Lightner And Joe E. Brown Playing In Dominion Picture

Clever Comedy Team in "Sit Tight"; Hobart Bosworth Also Has Lead in Film

The "human from divine" has a lot of odd curves and angles. Most of which are put up for study in Warner Brothers new laughing hit, "Sit Tight," co-starring Winnie Lightner and Joe E. Brown and featuring Claudia Dell, Paul Gregory and Hobart Bosworth, showing at the Dominion Theatre to-day and Tuesday.

Many of the scenes are laid in a "health" institute and gymnasium where hard-swinging Winnie presides as director of calisthenics for the would-be Venus of Adams. Funny mirth-provoking patients make up classes and provide an interesting insight into the fearful variety of means utilized at such places to rejuvenate the human figure.

Bernice Claire and Joe E. Brown Have Leading Roles in Comedy Attraction

Both singing and acting lie very close to the heart of Bernice Claire, who has the feminine lead with Joe E. Brown in "Top Speed," now at the Columbia Theatre.

Miss Claire, who is only twenty-two years old, won her first laurels on the stage in "The Desert Song." Then First National Pictures called her to California and gave her her first screen opportunity in "No. No. Nanette," a singing and dancing role. This was followed by "Spring is Here" and "Song of the Flame"—the latter an admirable vehicle for the display of her exceptionally beautiful soprano voice.

Former Newspaper Man Has Leading Role In Feature at Coliseum

Plays Opposite Bebe Daniels in Picture Entitled "Alias French Gertie"

Another newspaperman makes good in the movies.
He is Wallace Smith, who created the dialogue of "Alias French Gertie," Bebe Daniels' third Radio starring film now at the Coliseum Theatre.
Before Smith was twenty he was star reporter of a Chicago paper. Later he earned the distinction of being the youngest newspaper correspondent in Washington, D.C. He was a member of the famous Pershing punitive expedition in Mexico. Smith contributes to the nationally famous magazines.
He was born in Chicago and lived for a number of years on a ranch in New Mexico.

"Kiss Me Again" With Bernice Claire Now At Capitol Theatre

June Collier Also Has One of Leads in Gay Romance With Parisian Setting

If spontaneity of applause is to be taken as an indication of approval, the response of to-day's audience at the Capitol Theatre, to "Kiss Me Again," places it among the biggest hits of the year.
There is a glow about "Kiss Me Again" as though the Celtic gaiety of the man who created the characters and the story, had taken possession of director, players and everyone concerned. There is youthful enthusiasm, abandon, as if it all had been done for a lark, and just for the love of doing it.

Bernice Claire, Walter Pidgeon, June Collier and Ed Horton are playing in this gay Parisian romance.

Charles Farrell And Janet Gaynor Travel In Playhouse Picture

In "The Man Who Came Back" These Stars Travel 14,000 Miles

Fourteen thousand miles, half way round the globe and back again, travel Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in their starring roles in Raoul Walsh's "The Man Who Came Back," now playing at the Playhouse Theatre. Despite being regular globe trotters in this as well as in their previous pictures, the two popular screen sweethearts have never been outside of the territorial limits of the United States in real life.
In "The Man Who Came Back," Farrell finds the first part of his journey easy going, for he is traveling the easy and downward path to degradation. The way back to decency, however, is a difficult one lined with dangerous and alluring bypaths.

"YOUNG IDEA" HERE TO-NIGHT

University Players Will Be Seen in Sparkling Comedy at Royal Victoria

Among the favorable reviews given "The Young Idea," to be presented here by the University Players' Club at the Royal Victoria Theatre this evening, is the following, which appeared in a Vancouver paper:
"The sparkling lines and excellently contrived situations of Noel Coward's 'The Young Idea' provided the club with a vehicle that was easily within its bounds to produce in first class professional style. With the exception of a few minor details there was hardly a trace of amateurishness throughout. The dialogue so ably written by Coward was well handled, while the constantly recurring comic scenes had the last possible laugh 'squeezed out.'
"Marjorie Ellis and Alfred Evans easily took the honors for the evening in the presentations of the characters of Gerda and Sholto. These two kept the audience in a continual state of laughter by their precocious antics. Evans, who appeared in 'Polly With a Past' and 'Rollo's Wild Oat,' made a welcome return to the Players' Club."

THE MODERN MAN BURNS HIMSELF UP

Excepting trained athletes, we moderns are puny creatures compared with our forefathers. Even athletes soon burn out eating acid-forming foods, the great cause of modern physical inferiority. From 32 to 50 Dr. Jackson was one of the unfit. At 50 Dr. Oiler gave him four months to live, dying from acid-forming foods. He then invented alkali-forming Roman Meal. Before that he had lived on the ground floor, unable to climb stairs. Four years afterwards he climbed the fifty storeys in Washington's Monument, up and down, solely due to the alkalinizing properties in Roman Meal. In September, 1928, when seventy, he ran five miles in forty-five minutes—was not winded; again due to Roman Meal. Write for free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," and other literature, also sample of Roman Meal and Kofy-sub, the new alkaline beverage, to ROBT. G. JACKSON, M.D., 807 Vine Avenue, Toronto 9, Ont. PIONEER SCOUT GROUP MEETS

Linton Queale, Leader of Hawk Patrol, Receives Patrol Challenge Cup

A very successful meeting was held at the Pioneer Scout headquarters Friday evening. During the evening the troop was presented with their scout neckties. The patrol challenge cup was presented to Linton Queale, patrol leader of the Hawks. The Owl patrol were winners of the cup two months ago but were not successful in holding it.

SECURE SUMMER COTTAGE

The troop was fortunate in obtaining the use of a small cottage for week-end hikes during the summer. The owner, who will be touring South America, gave the pioneer troop scoutmaster permission to use his cottage and grounds. It is situated near the sea shore and the pioneers find it an ideal spot for woodcraft study. There is also a good bathing beach. The troop will at a later date build shelters for themselves near the cottage, the ground being too wet as yet.

A first aid team has been formed, and the practices are very successful.

Canadian Press
Hamilton, April 27.—W. R. Drynan, general manager of Canadian Canners Limited, who has returned from a trip across the continent, says in British Columbia, business experienced by his company was as good or better than in other parts of Canada, with the possible exception of the Maritimes. Politicians had greatly exaggerated conditions in the west, according to persons interviewed by Mr. Drynan. While admitting that there was suffering, westerners were not looking for sympathy, and were reasonably assured that the time before long would turn in their favor, he said.

Vancover Taxi Driver Is Robbed

Vancouver, April 27.—Vancouver's taxi bandits operated again yesterday, selecting this time William Makwele, driver for the Commercial Taxi Co., 316 Cambie street. He was robbed of $3 and his car in Stanley Park Sunday at 2:15 a.m., according to a police report. The taxi driver told police two men ordered him to drive to an address in the 1900 block of Comox street. Suddenly one of them placed a revolver against Makwele and told him to move over. The bandit drove to Stanley Park, where the driver was searched. Then the pair drove away in the taxi, which was later recovered. Police state this pair of robbers operates nearly every night, always selecting a taxi driver as their victim.

CANADIAN SILICA SAND
The materials produced in the silica mining industry are: silica sand for the manufacture of glass, carborundum, and for use in steel foundries; silica, the finely pulverized silica sand which is important as a grinding and polishing substance; quartz and quartzite for smaller flux, ferro-silicon and silica brick.

Growing Deaf With Head Noises? Try This

If you are growing hard of hearing, and fear catarrhal deafness, or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears, go to your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parment (double strength) and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy, and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to take. Anyone who is threatened with catarrhal deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial. (Adv.)

"YUKON DAYS" ADDRESS TOPIC

Historical Association to Hear E. C. Senkler, K.C., Once Commissioner at Dawson

On Wednesday evening in the Provincial Library at 8 o'clock the British Columbia Historical Association will be addressed by E. C. Senkler, K.C., on the subject, "Yukon Days, 1898 to 1910." As Mr. Senkler was commissioner at Dawson this address will prove of great interest not only to those who know the north, but also to those who would know something of the adventures of the pioneer gold seekers of that time. W. H. Bullock-Webster will also address the meeting, and has chosen for his subject, "My Experiences on the All-Canadian Route to the Yukon, 1898." In view of the present interest in the great highway proposed to be built through British Columbia to the north this address will be most informing. The meeting is open free to the public.

Piano Recital At Quadra St. School Greatly Enjoyed

An enjoyable pianoforte recital was given by the pupils of Mrs. Marion MacGowan on Friday evening in the Quadra street school under the auspices of the Quadra P.T.A. The programme consisted of pianoforte solos and duets. In addition Miss Catherine Denison, accompanied by Mrs. Adams, delighted the audience with two vocal solos. Miss Joan Lucas also contributed a vocal solo in a very pleasing manner. Little Owen Peacock gave a clever tap dance, accompanied by Miss Christine Schmelz. An interesting feature on the programme was the clever rendition of several whistling solos by Reggie Stoffer, accompanied by Robert Taylor. Those taking part were: Owen Peacock, Clifford and Thelma Ruffe, Gloria Peterson, Margaret and Elsie George, June Hodgkinson, Hilda Jacques, Gordon Ewing, Phyllis and Doreen Mills, Alice Heathman, Strang, Guernsey, Joan Lucas, Mildred Morris, Joyce Harvey, Yvonne Lowden, Betty Muncy, Christine Schmelz, Kathleen Brown, Robert Taylor, Elvira Grey and Mrs. Adams.

New Speed Records Expected at Race For Schneider Cup

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times
London.—The race for the Schneider trophy will be flown in the Spithead-Solent area on September 12.

In 1926, the course flown by the competing machines lay wholly between the shores of the Isle of Wight and the mainland. From a spectacular point of view this was an ideal arrangement, as it provided numerous vantage points from which the race could be seen. There were advantages, too, for the competitors flying within well-defined waters. But it drew back to this course was that it covered the channels leading into Southampton and interfered with the movements of shipping. For that reason a new course is being charted for the race next September. This will be laid so that sea traffic will be little inconvenienced, as only small coasting craft go into most of the water over which the competitors will fly.

Another difference is that the proposed new course is triangular, not rectangular. The longest leg of it runs from about Ryde Middle to a point opposite the entrance to Christchurch Harbor, thence another leg leads in the direction of the Isle of Wight, the third—and shortest—returning towards Ryde Middle. This brings the race into an area that has not been previously used for it, as "competing machines will be visible from the Sussex shore at West Wittering, near which they make a turn."

The best places from which to see the racing will be, apparently, the sea beaches of Southsea and Hayling Island, though a good view should be obtainable from the Bembridge end of the Isle of Wight. British, Italian and French teams are to compete, and it is expected that the record set up in 1929 will be beaten, as faster machines than were then available have been built for this contest. The British team is again to be captained by Squadron-Leader Oribe, and the following pilots have been chosen for it: Flight-Lieutenant G. H. Stanforth (a member of the last team), F. W. Long, E. J. L. Howe, J. N. Boothman, Flying Officers L. S. Smith, H. H. Leach and G. L. Brinton (Lieut. R.N. attached to the R.A.F.). Calshot will again be available as a base for the pilots and their machines.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES

In computing the number of words in an advertisement, estimate groups of three or less figures as one word. Dollar marks and all abbreviations count as one word.

In estimating the number of lines in an advertisement, count five words for the first two lines and four words for each line thereafter. This is not an absolute rule but a guide to the number of lines, which depends on the length of the individual words.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of three or less figures as one word. Dollar marks and all abbreviations count as one word.

Advertisers who desire it may have replies addressed to a box at the Times Office and forwarded to their private address. A charge of 10c is made for this service.

Subscribers wishing their address changed should notify this office, as well as the carrier. If your Times is missing, please advise before 8 p.m. and a copy will be sent by special messenger.

The World's Tallest Grass

The other day in an article about Chinese farming, I mentioned the fast growth of bamboo. To-day I want to tell you more about this remarkable grass.

Yes, it is proper to call it "grass." It grows to a great height, and sometimes, like most other living things, the older it gets the slower it grows.

Bamboo is the world's tallest grass. On the island of Ceylon, it reaches a height of 120 feet—equal to the height of a nine-story building. Test it, you have proved that Ceylon bamboo during early weeks of growth, increases its height at the rate of three inches a day. If it kept growing at this rate for three years, it would become higher than Eiffel Tower, but like most other living things, the older it gets the slower it grows.

Because we so often see it in the shape of a thatched roof, we may gain the idea that bamboo is of only one kind; but there are almost 500 kinds in the world. Some kinds produce flowers and seeds once each year. Others live the age of from eighty to 100 years before coming to flower. One kind has a stalk of eleven inches thick.

The favored home of bamboo is Asia, but it also grows well in Africa and South America. Bamboo "groves" thrive in England and in the southern part of the United States, especially in Georgia and California.

Bamboo provides ribs for fans, and is used in making one type of phonograph needle. It is fashioned into the shape of hairpins, and is used for mats, porch curtains and parasol ribs.

Gyros To Wire Ottawa To Support Seaplane Base In Inner Harbor

Back Request of Ald. W. T. Straith Seeking Rights For Planes Here

Story of Negotiations Between City and Authorities Told Clubmen

The Gyro Club took definite steps to back the city's drive to secure seaplane base rights in the Inner Harbor to-day when it agreed to send telegrams to Premier Bennett, Hon. D. M. Sutherland, Minister of National Defence; D. B. Plunkett, M.P. for Victoria; E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., and Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C.N.R., asking for a definite statement on the project. The motion passed at the club's luncheon in the Empress Hotel, after the case for a seaplane base had been explained by Alderman W. T. Straith, chairman of the City Council's aviation committee.

Mr. Straith assured the clubmen that shipping interests of Victoria would be safeguarded by special regulations against complete responsibility in the case of a crash. "We think it is better business to build something valuable, such as roads or an airport and spread the expenditure over a period of twenty-five years rather than meet it at once in the form of a direct relief grant from current revenue," Mr. Straith said, dealing with the proposed aviation money-by-law to be placed before the people in the next few weeks.

CONFLICT IN NAME
Before dealing specifically with the seaplane base, he mentioned the inner harbor did not refer to the inner basin in front of the Empress Hotel but to a site on the base of Esplanade.

Aviation necessities were not dream here. They constituted a definite requirement if the city were to use its facilities to the utmost. He referred to the aerial possibilities, showing how much time was saved by picking up mail from ships arriving in Victoria. Mail could be carried from Victoria to Calgary, by air, faster than it could be sent by boat to Vancouver. After the introduction of air mail, passenger traffic would follow. This was no dream, and if Victoria wished to take advantage of its opportunities it "would have to step on it," he declared.

CIVIL RESPONSIBILITY
In reply to the query: Why should not the federal government furnish the airport? Mr. Straith stated there was no government base in Canada with the exception of that at St. Hubert, Montreal, constructed for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. There were no suitable locations near Victoria where a seaplane and airplane base could be established together, experts had said.

Support of the Gyro Club by experts of the Department of National Defence for a seaplane base here revealed the inner harbor was the only location in which one could be established. The speaker referred to the desire of Edward Lowe Jr. to establish a $125,000 base here. Mr. Lowe had also undertaken to furnish facilities for transitory fliers and would pay $700 annually in taxes in lieu of rent. Hence, the speaker continued, the city would have suitable accommodation to house planes.

SITE APPROVED
Squadron Leaders Tudhope and Cowley, two of the best-versed men in the city, had approved the site. The site had been approved by local shipping men and plans had been drafted but the government had stepped in and abolished Mr. Straith's plan.

Harold Elworthy, giving the views of shipping men, said Victoria's transportation in Canada had been approved by local shipping men and plans had been drafted but the government had stepped in and abolished Mr. Straith's plan.

WANT FAIR CHANCE
Harold Elworthy, giving the views of shipping men, said Victoria's transportation in Canada had been approved by local shipping men and plans had been drafted but the government had stepped in and abolished Mr. Straith's plan.

VISIT BIOLOGICAL STATION
The Victoria troops were invited by Dr. Clements to visit the Biological Station at Departure Bay, and were conducted around the premises by members of the station.

The scouts left Nanaimo for Victoria at 3.30 o'clock.

During their stay in Nanaimo the Victoria scouts were billeted by the people of the city. Cars for the trip were loaned by the Victoria Motor National Motors and Thos. Pimley, and special privileges were granted by the owners of the Mill Bay ferry.

GETS JUDGMENT IN MILL SUIT
Richard Hedley Strangman, 1908 Cochrane Street, to-day was awarded judgment for $1,800 by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald in the Supreme Court case against Mrs. Hastings.

The evidence was that the money was involved in the financing of Mr. Hastings' mill at Nanaimo. In the judgment of the court, Mrs. Hastings had paid Mr. Strangman $2,100, with to-day's sum left as a balance.

F. C. Elliott appeared for Mr. Strangman and T. Miller for Mr. Hastings.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Workers' Alliance will meet to-night in the K. of P. Hall, North Park Street, at 7.30 o'clock.

The annual meeting of the tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce will be held on Monday, May 11.

A message circle will be held in the Spiritual Temple, 1414 Douglas Street, this evening at 8 o'clock, conducted by Mrs. McDermott.

Convicted of being intoxicated in a public place, Ernest Evident was sentenced to thirty days hard labor in the City Police Court to-day.

Alleging he was assaulted in his quarters on Saturday evening, Charles McKay notified the police he had lost $17 and a pair of glasses during the scuffle.

R. W. Mayhew, newly-elected president of the Chamber of Commerce, and James W. Parritt, new vice-president, were welcomed to-day at the luncheon of the tourist trade group of the Chamber.

A general meeting of Saanich Ward Seven Liberals will be held to-morrow evening at the Tillicum School at 8 o'clock. All Liberals are invited to attend.

The tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce endorsed the proposition made to the National Parks Commissioner at Ottawa which will make the Esquimalt Lagoon a bird sanctuary.

Gaining entrance through a scullery, burglars on Saturday evening stole $2.50 from the home of W. T. Tucker, 1634 Hollywood Crescent, according to a report filed with the police. An attempt to enter the home of Mrs. K. E. Dougan, 4114 Menzies Street, Sunday, was unsuccessful.

The band concert to have been given by the Salvation Army band to-morrow evening, at Douglas Street Baptist Church, has been cancelled as a result of the destruction of the bandstand by the fire at the church.

William Baker was charged in the Saanich Police Court this morning with breaking into the Growers Wine Company plant at Lake Hill and stealing a twelve-gallon keg of wine. He was given a remand until Thursday afternoon. The police are looking for Baker's companion.

The Nash car owned by Percy Edwards, 1826 Belmont Street, stolen from in front of the Sprott-Shaw School on Saturday just after midnight, was found yesterday in a vacant lot at the corner of Haultain Street and Roseberry Avenue in a badly damaged condition, a report filed with the police stated. Investigations are being undertaken to determine who stole the machine.

In the rifle shooting competition of the Sixteenth Canadian Scout, held at the Esquimalt Lagoon, Sgt. A. E. Ashe was the winner, with a score of 101. Sgt. J. H. Regan finished second with 99. In the competition staged by the Victoria Boys' Club, the winner was the winner with 92, and Major P. Richardson second with 91.

Gaelic poets of the eighteenth century will form the subject of what promises to be one of the most interesting addresses yet given under the auspices of the Victoria Gaelic Society, when Rev. Bro. Lawless will speak at a public gathering under its auspices on Thursday evening at Victoria College. Bro. Lawless is the principal of St. Louis Boys' College and has made a special study of the Irish poets.

Celebrating the one hundred and twelfth anniversary of the founding of Victoria Lodge, No. 1 I.O.O.F., the local Odd Fellows and members of Rebekah Lodge attended divine service at the Royal Episcopal Church, Humboldt Street, yesterday morning. Brother A. J. Owen officiated. Before the service the members paraded from their homes to the church. The parade was headed by the Victoria Boys' Band, and the Victoria Girls' Band also participated.

Support of the Gyro Club for the May 25 frolic to be staged by the Victoria Playing Fields Association was sought by C. P. Bamford, secretary of the association, at the club's luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day. Mr. Bamford explained the objects of the association, saying it hoped to secure the Imperial grounds, the Macdonald property in James Bay for a sports field with the assistance of the City Council. The council had promised to spend $3,000 on a dollar-for-dollar basis with the association, he said.

With the object of raising $3,000 to assist in fitting out a new hospital in the Peace River district, in compliance with the request of the C. C. Crawford, who addressed them recently, members of the Gyro Club to-day endorsed a resolution submitted by J. G. Gower, which suggested all branches of the organization in B.C. combine in an effort to secure the sum. The motion was passed at the club's luncheon to-day and the proposal will be taken up with other branches in the near future.

The City Council will this afternoon have before it, for the first time, a copy of the report presented by Commissioner Oscar Park, B.C., to the Legislature, following a visit by the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee, a copy of the report.

Up to noon to-day Alderman R. T. Williams had not filed any notice of motion to amend or repeal the Zoning By-law, as was recommended by him last week. The council appointed Alderman Williams a committee of one to bring in a practical solution of the situation.

Life Full of Ups and Downs, Keeps Smiling

Philosophic Victoria Scot Exemplifies Theory "You Can Never Keep a Good Man Down," as Again He Rises to Top of the World, and Starts Out on His Second Million.

He claims that he has had more ups and downs in life than any man in Victoria. He has risen to the great heights and plunged to the lowest depths so many times that it no longer means anything to him whether he is sitting on top of the world expecting another descent, or at the bottom with hopes of rising again. Nothing can disturb the equanimity of the man whom "The Philosophic Scot" has christened.

Half Victoria knows him. Many, including statesmen, premiers, politicians, mayors, police commissioners, musicians, famous and famous journalists, financiers, advertising men, actors, actresses, firemen, policemen and club reporters have risen with him. He has caused thousands to place down as far as it is possible to go and rise again. Yet he retains their friendship and they are ready to embark with him again whenever he is ready to soar again to the topmost heights.

"This life is full of ups and downs," he remarks this morning. "But what's the difference? You can't keep a good man down long."

He is Dave Porter, the elevator man in the Victoria Times Building. Twenty years ago he arrived in Victoria from Scotland. He reached the city in the evening. The next morning, during a search for work, he called at The Times office.

"Do you know if they need any men here?" he asked the elevator man. "Yes, I am leaving as soon as they can get me," he answered. "Do you want this job?" was the reply. "I'll take it," he answered. He has been there ever since.

Office statisticians figured out that on his average of 1,000 trips a week he has already made his first million and started out to-day with 40,000 toward his second million.

FIRE WRECKS BAND ROOM OF CITADEL

The Salvation Army Citadel on Broad Street was damaged by smoke and water shortly before midnight yesterday, when a fire in the band room broke out. The fire destroyed the majority of the band instruments and damaged most of those not ruined.

The fire department was called at 11.20 o'clock and got the fire under control before it could spread to the main structure of the citadel. Local officers of the Salvation Army this morning stated that some insurance was carried but that reconstruction of the old building would not be undertaken until authorized by Commissioner Henry in charge of headquarters at Winnipeg.

The Army is considering early construction of a new citadel on Cornhill Street, where plans were prepared and a campaign for funds initiated last fall.

Two small fires this morning gave the fire department a busy run, one being to 1280 McKenzie Street, where a roof fire was put out and the other to 2803 Rose Street, where a gas range over-heated, ignited a wall partition and damaged a bedroom over the kitchen.

OBITUARY

The death occurred yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital of Laurence Ronald, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Shillito of Sidney. Private funeral services will be conducted to-morrow afternoon from the Sunde Funeral Co. The remains will be laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery.

A large number of friends attended the funeral of Alexander Neil Inglis, which took place on Saturday afternoon, from McCall Bros' Funeral Home. Rev. Clem Davies, D.D., conducted the service, during which the hymns, "Abide With Me" and "Rock of Ages," were sung. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The funeral of Frederick George Mall took place on Saturday afternoon from McCall Bros' Funeral Home. Rev. C. M. Davies, D.D., conducted the service, during which the hymns, "The Lily of the Valley," and "There's a Land That is Fairer Than Day," were sung. "When Mother Prayed" was also sung as a solo by W. T. Abbott. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park, with the following as pallbearers: A. Abbott, G. Clark, W. H. Turnbull, F. W. Batterick and W. T. Abbott.

Margaret Robertson Macleod, widow of John D. Macleod, formerly of Nelson, passed away yesterday at the family residence, 603 Third Street, aged eighty years. She was born at Lagan, Inverness-shire, Scotland, and had been a resident of Victoria for thirty years. The remains will be forwarded by the E. C. Chappel on Wednesday to Nelson for services and interment in the family plot.

The funeral took place Saturday afternoon, at 1.45 o'clock, from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel of Maude Millicent Schwarz. The cortege proceeded to the Victoria City Church, where service was conducted by Rev. Canon W. A. P. Chapple. A large gathering of friends. Two hymns were sung, "Abide With Me" and "Lead, Kindly Light." The remains will be laid to rest in Royal Oak Burial Park. A large number of beautiful floral tributes covered the casket. The following acted as pallbearers: E. J. Browning, R. E. Whyte, R. Watson, J. T. Brown, S. E. Pearce and J. W. Kenyon.

VANCOUVER CUT IN MILK PRICE NOT FELT HERE

Victoria Consumers Not Likely to Receive Benefit of Surplus Supply, Dairymen Say

The principal milk retailing dairies of Victoria this morning said that no reduction in retail milk prices was yet in prospect for Victoria consumers, although an acute problem was being encountered in disposal of unusually large surplus supplies of milk. Such reductions in price as were being given consumers in Vancouver would be ineffective in increasing consumption in Victoria, it was stated, the only result of lowered prices being a small saving to householders. Milk is retailing in Victoria at eight quarts for the dollar, while Vancouver consumers are able to get milk at twelve quarts for the dollar.

Vancouver, April 27.—A heavy seasonal production of milk, due to the warm weather and good pasture conditions, brought about a reduction in wholesale prices, to stores, of one to three cents a quart, according to W. J. Parka, president of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association. Retail prices have fallen as low as eight cents a quart at the stores.

While the situation was not altogether unusual, said Mr. Parka, he has never seen such large quantities of milk produced as is the case this year.

HEALTH CENTRE AT COWICHAN MAY EXPAND

Annual Meeting Favors Early Establishment of Full Time Health Unit

Mrs. C. E. Moss, O.B.E., Re-elected President; Much Service Performed

Duncan, April 27.—The annual general meeting of the Cowichan Health Centre Committee was held in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Duncan, on Friday afternoon, the president, Mrs. C. E. Moss, O.B.E., in the chair. The treasurer's report showed receipts of $7,618.78 for the year ending April 15 and expenditures of $7,238.96, leaving a balance on hand of $377.82. Mrs. G. Owens, of the Cowichan Health Centre committee, presented Mrs. Moss with a bouquet of tulips.

The eleventh annual report of the work of the Cowichan Health Centre was presented by Miss Anne Yates, who was succeeded by Miss Anne Yates, who left in December to be married. Miss Bertha Jenkins joined the staff in August and took over the duties of supervisor in January.

Well-baby clinics are popular, and are carried on with the co-operation of Mrs. Garner, Bisset and Swan in Duncan, and Dr. Stanier at Hammonds. Dental service was also of interest, the first rural dental clinic in British Columbia being inaugurated by the Cowichan Health Centre in January.

ALLAN CUP WON BY CUMBERLAND

Nanaimo, April 27.—Cumberland won the Allan Cup on Saturday when the O. B. Allan Cup, emblematic of the B.C. junior championship, when they defeated Burnaby 3-2. Campbell scored the winning goal in overtime.

The game was one of the roughest ever seen in Nanaimo. Fouls were frequent and Stant, of Cumberland, was banished for kicking Dixon, the centre half, who had to be carried from the field. End to end play, with both teams attacking for twenty minutes, resulted in Gibson giving Cumberland the lead with a hard drive from close in.

Twenty minutes later, Richards, Burnaby left winger, secured from a skiffish in front of the goal and equalized, the same player adding another one minute later to give his team the lead. The first thirty minutes of the second period was stubbornly contested, while Dixon handled in the penalty area and Gibson converted to equalize. Brown, Bartholdi and Campbell were outstanding for Cumberland, whilst Dixon, Macdonald and Richards, whilst Dixon, well for Burnaby. A. Battle, Lady-smith, referred.

SIX BLOOMS ON SINGLE TULIP STEM

It's tulip time in Victoria and growers of this popular flower are getting some very fascinating and unusual results.

On Saturday The Times told of what was considered a freak growth. The main stalk in very heavy flower, brought to the office two blooms on a single stalk. It was a real double one.

Yesterday J. Belanger, 1111 McKenzie Street, was looking over his fine bed of tulips and found one stalk with seven blooms on it and a number of others with four blooms. Mr. Belanger brought them to The Times and he said he was unable to account for the freak. He brought the bulbs from Holland two years ago and only one bloom was produced by each bulb last year. The main stalk is very heavy and three of the blooms came off the head of it, while the others are sort of branches.

Mr. Belanger's exhibit is regarded by gardeners as one of the most unusual freaks seen here in a long time.

N. Y. Market Analysis

New York, April 27.—Whitney of Wall Street Financial Bureau says: "FURTHER DELAY BEFORE TURN" "As a means of supporting the theory that the market is being unduly depressed, anyone with half a conception of fundamentals could test out a dozen reasons why the market is at a turning-point, if, in fact, it has not already come down too far. Such considerations as have been pointed out here from time to time show a low point in business last December which has been gradually improved since that time, with business standing off from its bottom sufficiently to believe any justification for the market being where it is. One could likewise point out that almost unprecedented low money rates have had ample time to put into effect their healing process on general business as well as the market, not to mention the probability that the next week or two will bring forth a still lower rediscount rate and a general scaling down of all interest rates wherever they apply.

Such things as record high reserve ratios and record low commercial borrowings would appear to provide additional background for the market to have stopped its decline considerably short of the present prices, with any number of other factors, such as increased operating efficiency in industry, a well liquidated installment payment structure and a well liquidated commodity market rounding up the exhibit. The point involved at the moment, however, is that the market has come below the stopping point that all these features would seem to dictate, even if you throw in some of the admitted harassed world-wide situations for good measure. With the market five points below its December bottom, I think that the reason that we can not escape is that the 'Street' itself is engaged with so many of its own particular problems that it temporarily, at least, has not become a question of what stocks are worth, so much as what, under its own internal problems, stocks will bring. "When a stock simply has to be sold and sold quickly for what you can get for it, fundamental values disappear as quickly from the equation, and think that this point is the predominating influence to be considered at the present time, even if it has to be considered to the exclusion of the value aspect which will undoubtedly reflect

You Cannot Revive Dead Love by Repeating The Endearments Used During Courtship, But You Can Keep It Alive if Your Are Willing to Make the Sacrifice It Requires

THE JUDGE of a Domestic Relations Court, in his effort to reconcile an estranged married couple, has ordered the husband to go to see his wife twice a week and make love to her in the way in which he used to do it when he was courting her.

Oh, yeah? It is a safe bet that that Judge was never bitten by Solomon's dog, as the old proverb has it. For the task the learned jurist sets the husband is an impossible one. There is no such thing as synthetic love. No man can manufacture heart throbs at will, nor is there any woman such a fool that she cannot detect real affection from the spurious.

But it is amusing to picture the husband reviving the technique of his wooing days at the law's behest. One fancies him saying to himself as he dresses to start forth on his enforced call upon his very ex-lady love: "Oh, well, this is the night I have to go to see Sally, or else go to jail, and by jinks I'd rather go to jail if I didn't have my business to look after and didn't know it would go to pot if I took my eye off it. But, anyway, thank God, I only have to go to see her twice a week and I don't have to live with her and be bored to death and have to listen to her whines and complaints and nagging as I used to."

And fancy him upon arrival, still trying to act like the lover he was ordered to be, exclaiming: "Darling, Sweetheart, Angel Face," while secretly thinking (You old cat, you get uglier and fatter every day and how I ever could have thought I fancied you is something I can never understand about myself. Must have had a brain storm or been drunk or something). "It has been a million years since I saw you last" (and I wish it would be a million more before I ever see you again). "Give me a kiss, one little tiny kiss" (if I acted as I feel, I would bite a chunk out of you).

And so on, and so on, through all the lover's ritual. All good stuff when it was genuine, all hokey when it is faked. For love-making must be spontaneous to have any pep in it and kisses must be warm with desire to have any flavor. Otherwise they are the flattest and most tasteless thing on earth and the least capable of inspiring a thrill.

Also, unfortunately, we cannot love to order. If we could, we would make wise and intelligent marriages and live happily ever afterward, instead of the silly impulsive ones we do make that end in the divorce court. A man would pick out for a wife the nice, domestic girl of a good family and with a tidy little fortune that his mother is always throwing in his way, instead of the wild, wayward, useless, frivolous, pretty thing that he takes to torment him and keep him in debt with her extravagance. And a girl would espouse the good, substantial, middle-aged man who could give her an establishment and plenty of money to spend instead of the poor young ne'er-do-well that she will have to take in boarders to support.

Nor if we could love to order would there be any philandering husbands and wives, for all of us know that home-staying hearts are happiest and every husband and wife would rather find their ideals at their own fireside than seek them abroad.

But, alas, the ability to control our affections is not within our power. Why we love, nor why we cease to love, we do not know. It just happens that some way, somehow, some particular woman or man appeals to us as the most desirable thing on earth and the one thing we cannot live without, and suitability of expediency or duty has nothing to do with the case. And very often it happens that all of a sudden, and also without any reason, the thing that we have so coveted and broken our backs to get, falls upon us and we lose our taste for it and it becomes repugnant to us.

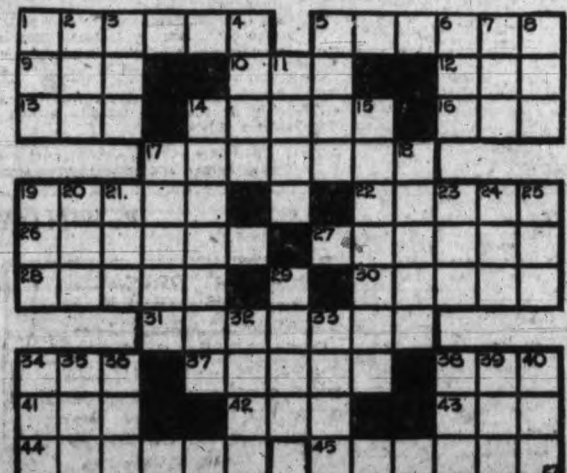

We can find no charm in the face we have thought so beautiful. The little tricks and manners that have intrigued us with their cuteness get on our nerves. The conversation that we have listened to with bated breath bores us to death. The individuals we have married are just exactly what they were when we selected them from all the world for our husbands and wives. They carry the same line of virtues and faults. They have not changed one iota. But for their allure is gone. Why? We no more know than we know why we have lost our appetite for certain dishes of which we once could not get enough.

The tragedy of the thing is that when love is dead it is dead beyond the power of resurrection. You can no more revive it than you can blow the breath of life into a corpse, or kindle dead ashes into a flame again. Least of all can the husbands and wives who between them have murdered love undo their crime by repeating the tactics of their courtship.

No. You cannot revive dead love, but you can keep it alive if you are willing to make the sacrifice it requires.

TWO DEATHS IN ACCIDENTS

Bellingham, Wash., April 27.—A drowning—id a fatal automobile crash made up yesterday's toll of accidents here. Paul Williams, twenty-four, Seattle, lost his life in the waters at Lummi Island, and W. G. Smith, forty, Bellingham, was killed two miles north of here in a head-on automobile collision. Williams, an engineer on the ferry boat Pioneer, fell into the water in trying to jump over the boat in the fog early Sunday morning. The body was recovered.

Smith received fatal injuries in an automobile collision and three others in the bar, two of them women, sustained bad cuts and bruises.
